

WILSON IS FIRM IN HIS DEMANDS

Railroad Presidents,
After Canvassing
Situation, Meet
With President
This Afternoon.

By Associated Press Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, AUGUST 21.—PRESIDENT WILSON TODAY REITERATED TO THE RAILROAD EXECUTIVES, INCLUDING THE NEW ARRIVALS FROM THE WEST, HIS DEMAND THAT THEY ACCEPT HIS PLAN FOR THE SETTLEMENT OF THE THREATENED RAILROAD STRIKE.

THE EXECUTIVES THEN BEGAN THE FIRST OF A SERIES OF MEETINGS IN WHICH THEY WILL FRAME A REPLY.

LOUIS W. HILL, PRESIDENT OF THE GREAT NORTHERN, WHO WAS THE FIRST TO ARRIVE AT THE WHITE HOUSE, WAS APPARENTLY IN GOOD HUMOR.

HE, WITH THE OTHER EXECUTIVES, AGREED THAT IT SHOULD BE POSSIBLE TO REACH AN AGREEMENT WITHIN THE NEXT FEW DAYS.

PRESIDENT WILSON CALLED THE RAILROAD PRESIDENTS TO THE WHITE HOUSE AGAIN THIS AFTERNOON FOR ANOTHER CONFERENCE.

It had been expected there would be no further move until tomorrow, but when the Western men arrived today the railroad managers canvassed the situation and found that all of the executives that could reach the capital within a reasonable time already had arrived.

They so advised the White House and the President invited them to a conference at 2:30 o'clock.

The railway heads spent several hours today trying to devise some form of settlement of the threatened strike which would still preserve the principle of arbitration and be one which President Wilson could prevail upon the men to accept.

One of the suggestions the presidents were prepared to make at the

COUNT M. KAROLYI

Nobleman Said to Be Seeking Separate Peace For Hungary.

White House was for legislation to create a board or commission to investigate when trouble threatens between railroad employers and employees.

CAUCUS GIVES SOME HOPES

Hill, President of the Great Northern, Comes in Response to President's Invitation.

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Washington, August 21.—With the arrival here today of Louis W. Hill, president of the Great Northern, and other western railway executives, in response to President Wilson's summons, important developments in the threatened railroad strike situation were looked for, although no further general White House conference was expected before tomorrow.

The President, however, made no engagements for today and stood ready to continue negotiations with the railroad executives.

All the western presidents are expected before noon tomorrow.

SENATE TO CONSIDER IMMIGRATION BILL

By Associated Press Dispatch.
Washington, August 21.—By 27 to 24 the Senate today voted to take up the immigration bill which the Democratic caucus had determined to postpone until next session. Nine Democrats voted with Republicans for the motion.

When debate and the provision relating to Asiatics was begun, galleries were cleared and consideration of those features proceeded in secret.

CLEVELAND HOT

By Associated Press Dispatch.
Cleveland, O., August 21.—Local heat records for the season were threatened today when the thermometer registered 100 at one o'clock.

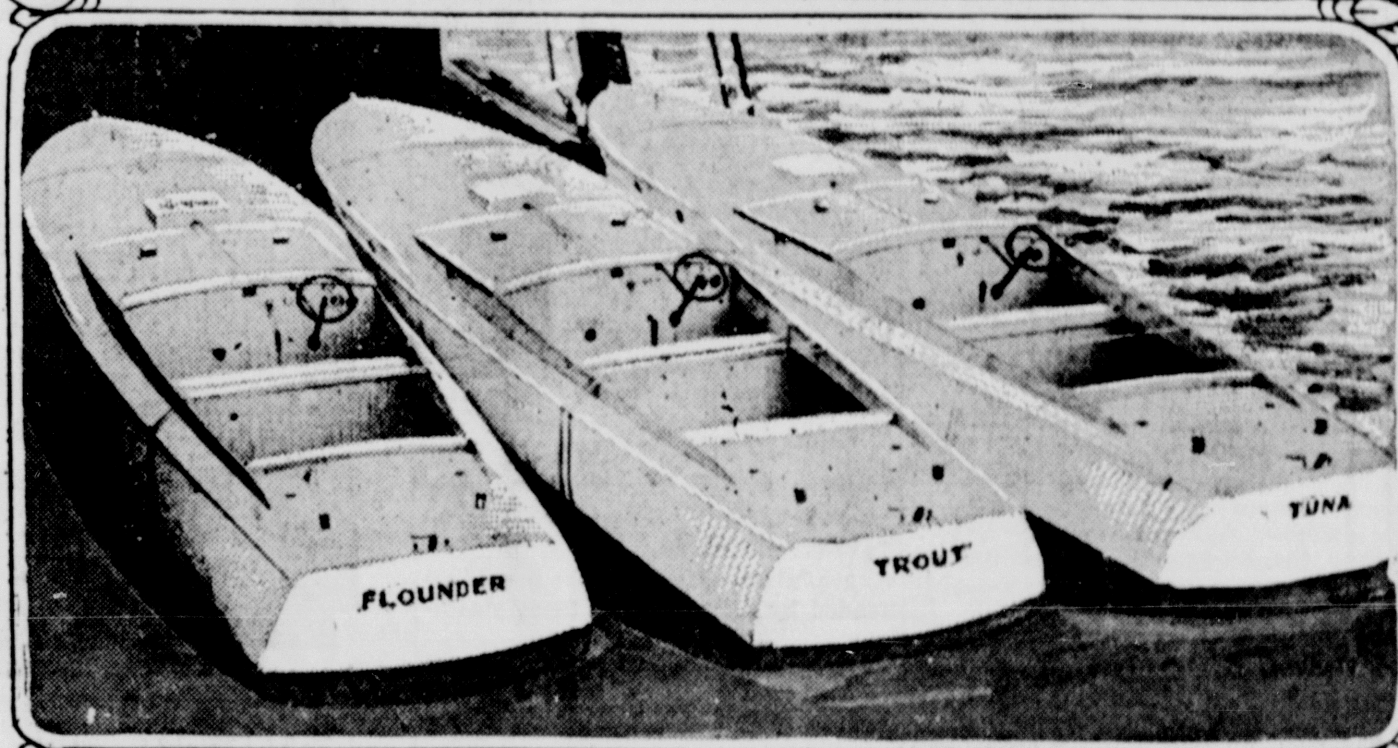

The season's record is 103. Six babies died on account of the heat.

THREE KILLED AUTO CRASH

Tragedy at Owingsville Costs Lives of Three—Others Injured.

By Associated Press Dispatch.
Owingsville, Ky., August 21.—William Ruggles, John Pennington and Miss Lora Rainey, all of this city, were killed and three others badly hurt when an automobile in which they were riding ran off a bridge across a small creek here today, turning over and landing on the rocky bottom.

"SEA WASPS" BUILT HERE FOR BRITISH TO CHASE GERMANY'S SUBMARINES

SOME OF GREAT BRITAIN'S NEW "SUBMARINE CHASERS"

Here are some of the fast "submarine chasers," part of an order of forty, built in South Boston for use in guarding the coasts of Great Britain. Six of them have been shipped from Boston. All are named after various fish of the sea. They are 100 horsepower gasoline launches, of uniform design, forty feet long and capable of making twenty-five knots. The contracts were awarded last spring, and it is said they cost $4,000 each. The boats are very heavily constructed forward, evidently with the idea of mounting a small gun, probably

28 KILLED WHEN BOILER EXPLODES

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Jackson, Tenn., August 21.—Eight men were killed and a number are missing in a boiler explosion today at the Harlan Norris Stave Factory. A large number of men were out of the works at the time.

CAMP WILLIS SIZZLING HOT

Almost Perfect Health of 8000 Men Enables Them to Stand Heat.

By Associated Press Dispatch.
Camp Willis, Columbus, August 21.—The health of the troops at Camp Willis remains almost perfect, according to reports from the camp today.

With practically 8,000 troops at the camp, there rarely are more than 15 men in the hospital and these have minor ailments.

The heat of yesterday, when the thermometer registered over 100 degrees, caused no prostration, and most of the men attended church services.

Field manoeuvres are being planned for the guardsmen, to be held as soon as more ground can be obtained.

Daily hikes have conditioned the men so that a ten-mile march a day is considered easy for them.

FIRST SETTLES DOWN TO CAMP WORK

By Associated Press Dispatch.
Camp Perry, O., August 21.—Officers and men of the First Regiment, Ohio National Guard, of Cincinnati, settled down to hard work today.

The regiment was in fine shape on its arrival, not a case of illness being reported.

ITALIANS LAND AT SALONIKA

Disembarkation of the Troops From Italy, the Unrest of the Greeks and Movements of Bulgarian Forces Forecast Launching of Balkan Offensive.

(Associated Press Cable.)

LONDON, AUGUST 21.—ITALIAN TROOPS ARE TO TAKE PART IN THE IMPORTANT CAMPAIGN JUST OPENING IN THE BALKANS ACCORDING TO SALONIKI ADVICES TODAY WHICH REPORT THE DISEMBARKATION OF ITALIAN SOLDIERS AT THAT PORT NOW IN PROGRESS.

German troops are employed on the Macedonian front, and actual war between Germany and Italy, of which there has so far been no formal declaration, now seems probable.

The Macedonian campaign itself does not yet seem to have developed an engagement of first magnitude, but there is pronounced activity along the 150-mile front with successes claimed by each side at various points.

In Entente quarters there is said to be no apprehension felt that the plans of General Sarraill, the Entente commander, will be interfered with by the German and Bulgarian attacks on the allied flanks.

Greece, however, is reported to be disquieted over the advances of the Bulgarians toward Kavala, the Greek seaport east of the Allied front, and southward movements of the Bulgarians on the other flank which resulted in the occupation of Florina.

In the Verdun region the Germans who again lost the village of Fleury, northeast of the citadel, in fighting late last week, are making determined efforts to regain the place.

Last night they drove against the village with strong forces, using flaming liquid to aid their attack, but according to today's Paris bulletin, the French fire effectively stopped the assault.

Along the Somme front in northern France the artillery battle is raging violently.

No infantry actions are reported by Paris, however, although a German counter attack apparently is in preparation following the capture by the French of a strongly fortified wood between Guillemont and Maurepas, announced last night.

CARPATHIAN FIGHTING PRODUCTIVE OF RESULTS

FIGHTING ON THE EASTERN FRONT HAS BEEN CHIEFLY PRODUCTIVE OF DECISIVE RESULTS IN THE CARPATHIANS AND IN THE REGION BETWEEN KOVEL AND PINSK.

In the latter the Russians report further gains at the point of the lower Stokhod near Rudka Chersische, about 40 miles northeast of Kovel, where they broke through the Teutonic lines last week and captured Tobol.

Russian attacks here and around Lake Nobel, in this region, are considered in some quarters as not so much directly connected with the operations for the taking of Kovel as intended to menace the Germans at Pinsk, 30 miles northeast of Lake Nobel, where a salient projects into the Russian lines.

Further progress for the Russians in their Carpathian campaign, where they are moving forward toward Hungary, is claimed by Petrograd. The new gain is in the easternmost pass south from Kuty.

The Italians, after having made important gains east of Gorizia and on the Carso plateau, to the southwest, have suspended their attacks and are consolidating the positions taken.

Heads of Roads Continue to Hold Conferences.

MAY OFFER NEW PROPOSAL

President in Telegram to Head of Manufacturers' Association Again Makes Known His Stand.—Conferences of Managers and Presidents With Chief Executive to Continue While Labor Leaders Mark Time.

Washington, Aug. 21.—Developments may be expected in a few days in the conferences of the president with the ranking officials of the railroads and leaders of their employees, parties to the controversy which threatens a nation-wide strike.

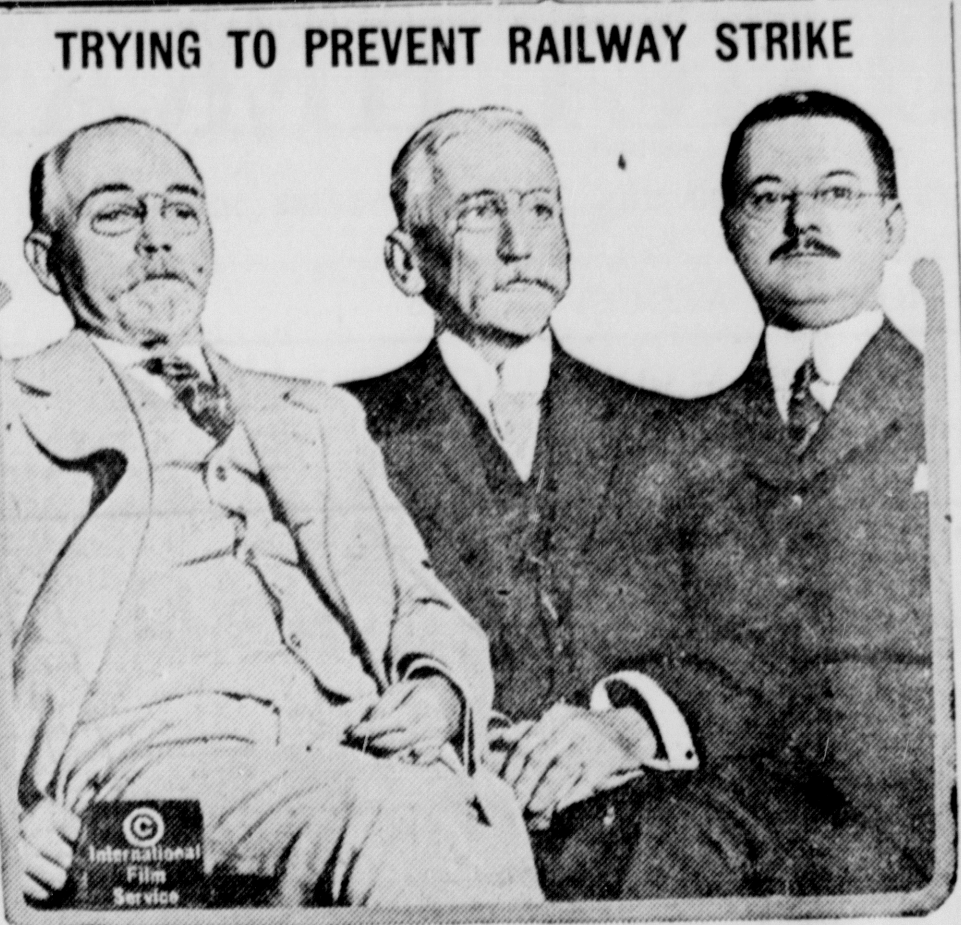

While the negotiations took no actual forward step, the president replied indirectly to contentions of the road officials that the principle of arbitration would be endangered by his plan for putting the eight hour basic day into effect while a commission investigates its practicability and passes upon other points at issue. In a telegram made public at the White House the president declared he held firmly to arbitration as a principle, and that his plan strengthened rather than weakened it. He also said that some means must be found to prevent the existing situation from ever arising again.

The road officials, who have tentatively refused to accept Mr. Wilson's proposal continued conferences among themselves. The labor leaders, who already have approved the proposal, marked time awaiting definite decision from the employers.

The president's telegram defending his plan was in reply to an appeal from George Pope, president of the National Association of Manufacturers, urging that the principle of arbitration be preserved in the strike negotiations.

The president replied: "Allow me to acknowledge receipt of your telegram of Aug. 18 and to say in reply that I hold to the principle of arbitration with as clear a conviction and as firm a purpose as any, but that unfortunately there is no means now in existence by which arbitration can be secured. Existing means have been tried and have failed. The situation must never be allowed to rise again but it has arisen. Some means must be found to prevent its recurrence, but no means can be found off-hand or in a hurry or in season to meet the present national emergency. What I am proposing does not weaken or discredit the principles of arbitration. It strengthens it, rather. It proposes that nothing be conceded except the eight hour day, to which the economic movement of the times seems to point, and the immediate creation of an agency for determining all the arbitrable elements in this case in the light, not of predictions or forecasts, but of established and ascertained facts. This is the first stage of the direct road to the discovery of the best permanent basis for arbitration when other means than those now available are supplied."

There were no outward developments pending arrival of the addi-

These are the members of the federal board of mediation and conciliation who have undertaken the attempt to arrange the differences between the railway managers and the brotherhoods so there shall be no strike. Left to right, they are Martin A. Knapp, W. L. Chambers and G. W. Hanger.

TRYING TO PREVENT RAILWAY STRIKE

Additional railroad executives to whom the president sent invitations. Representatives of both sides are prepared to remain here until the final word is spoken and a strike is declared or averted.

It is thought probable that there would be no further general White House conferences until Tuesday. Although the railroad executives continue to maintain their position in opposition to the president's plan and in favor of arbitration, administration officials express hope that ultimately they would decide to negotiate on the basis proposed by Mr. Wilson.

It was understood that a counter proposal was under consideration by the railroad executives, but that it had not yet reached a definite stage. It was said to include arbitration of at least some of the points at issue, with the granting of others. In the meantime telegrams urging the president to insist on arbitration arrived in large numbers at the White House.

COSTS MORE TO RAISE YOUNGSTERS

(Associated Press Cable.)

London, Aug. 21.—It is estimated that the all-around expenditure on a baby born this year is probably from $100 to $125 higher than in 1914.

Food alone adds about $15 to the year's cost of the war-baby. Milk has gone up four cents a quart and it is said that the average baby consumes from 400 to 450 pints a year. Baby foods are up about ten per cent. Feeding bottles cost a third more, and the methylated spirit for heating the night's feed has advanced from ten cents to 25 cents a pint.

Baby garments cost more also. Everything made of wool has risen 33 per cent in price; all cotton and wool mixture materials and garments are 25 per cent higher, the wholly cotton ones, owing to the rise in raw materials and labor, must be paid for at the rate of about fifteen per cent more.

Even a baby's bath costs one third more; soap is a third dearer, the bath thermometer is up about 25 per cent, toilet powder—chiefly because of the rise in the price of the boric acid it contains—is 100 per cent dearer.

Nearly all medicines costs much more.

Perambulators are about one-fourth dearer. What formerly was sold for $15 is now $20 and so on. A cot that could be bought before the war for $5 is now $7.50; the fleecy wool mattress, baby's basket and baby's high chair are all up proportionately.

Nurse's wages have advanced $5 or more and her keep is costing at least one-third more—an increase of $50 or more a year.

DENIES RUMOR OF RETIREMENT

(Associated Press Cable.)

Tokio, Aug. 21.—The secretary of the Japanese cabinet has issued an official statement denying an insistent report in the Japanese press that Premier Okuma would retire. The statement allows it to be understood that the opposition groups in the Diet were responsible for the reports.

The idea advanced was that Premier Okuma has long felt that it was time for him to withdraw and that the successful negotiating of an alliance with Russia offered a favorable moment for retirement as it represented a crowning act of statesmanship.

The opposition press suggested that the new cabinet would be a coalition ministry containing both Marshal Prince Terauchi, the governor-general of Korea and Baron Takaaki Kato, ex-minister of foreign affairs, or it would be a cabinet headed by either one of these statesmen.

Premier Okuma is receiving congratulations from all sides on his elevation to the rank of Marquis. The immediate occasion of that honor was the conclusion of the alliance with Russia but it has to do very largely with his distinguished services rendered to the Empire during the war with Germany.

Promotion to the rank of Marquis gives Premier Okuma a seat in the House of Peers.

"Of all the veteran statesmen," says the Japan Times, "who were survivors from the galaxy of the Meiji pillars of state, none has waited so long for a full opportunity to test his statesmanship as Count, now Marquis, Okuma. Nor has it been the lot of any other to experience so much pressure of arduous work in ripe old age as he."

MANY BAREFOOT BOYS

(Associated Press Cable.)

Berlin, Aug. 21.—The barefoot boy is coming back into his own as a result of the war and its increasing scarcity of leather. Various reports have come of the removal of prohibitions against attending school barefoot, and the city council of Munich has now removed the ban against shoeless youngsters in streets cars. The public is requested to make room for barefoot children inside the car, so far as possible, so that they may not be trodden on while standing on the platform.

MORE ECONOMY

(Associated Press Cable.)

Kiel, Aug. 21.—The cry of economy has now reached the German navy, as indicated by an order just issued by the Kaiser which abolishes the full dress uniform of officers. Henceforth accordingly, German naval officers will make a much less "stunning" impression on gala occasions. The gold embroidery on the collar and down the legs of the trousers is a thing of the past, and with it goes two-pointed hats.

TEACHERS' EXAMINATION.

The first examination for teachers of the city schools of Washington C. H., Ohio will be held at the High school building Thursday, August 31. Examination will begin promptly at 8:30 o'clock.

EXPENSIVE TRIP

(Associated Press Cable.)

Berlin, Aug. 21.—One of the most expensive motorboat trips on record is reported from the Jungfersee, a lake west of Berlin. Despite the prohibition against the use of such craft under a regulation adopted by the Federal Council last August, a party of six essayed a short trip. A police boat noted and overhauled them after a short chase. The motorboat, valued at 13,000 marks, was declared forfeited to the state.

NO WHEAT CARS

(By American Press)

Portland, Ore., Aug. 21.—The three Northwestern states, Oregon, Washington and Idaho will have 50,000,000 bushels of wheat to move to the Atlantic seaboard within the next six months and practically no cars are in sight in which to move it, according to a survey completed by local railroad men. The railroads will be called on to provide about 38,500 cars, the average capacity of a car being 1,300 bushels.

SENATE APPROVES

(By American Press)

Washington, Aug. 21.—The workmen's compensation bill to provide uniform compensation for government employees when disabled, and adequate benefits for their families in case of death, was passed by the senate. Federal employees would receive two thirds wages throughout disability, and provision is made for adequate medical attendance on injured to effect economy in preventing protracted compensation payments.

FIVE MINES STOP

(By American Press)

Nelsonville, Aug. 21.—Fifteen hundred miners employed in the five mines of the New York Coal company in this vicinity are out on strike, owing to refusal of the company to discharge Superintendent John Murphy, against whom the mine committee has filed a number of charges. After an investigation by state mining officials it is said the miners were ordered back to work but refused.

The Proportionate Effect

Those people who think they see, in the numerous successes of the Entente allies on all fronts, especially those on the west front in northern France and at Verdun, evidence of an early ending of the war should not permit themselves to become too optimistic.

The central powers are still far from defeat. Their magnificent armies are still able to combat their opponents every inch of the advance and to counter attack with effect.

So far as the western fronts are concerned the successes claimed by the Entente allies are "nibbling" rather than sweeping and decisive.

Some positions have been captured from the Teutons but the cost has been frightful and the captured positions are not such as give the victors any marked advantage—such an advantage as might properly be considered as exerting any considerable effect on the ultimate outcome.

The territory acquired in the east consists largely, if not entirely, of territory taken first by the Teutonic allies and is not a first hand capture of territory originally German or Austrian possession.

The main feature to be observed, in forming an opinion as to the end of the war, is that Germany and Austria, especially the former, are yet fighting on the territory of the enemy. Their empires are still uninvaded and their armies are still intact.

Wars do not end, generally, with defeat to nations in the position that Germany and Austria occupy at this time.

Of course, the Entente powers have won successes in this summer's fighting—wonderful successes—but not such successes as promise the end of the war, except remotely.

Rather these successes indicate that the Entente allies are at last in action and verifying Kitchener's prediction, the war has begun.

In comparison to other wars, the successes gained are enormous and would have been decisive of other wars but we must remember the magnitude of this war and credit that importance to the victories won which is in proportion to the present conflict in order to gauge properly the effect.

A Charter Government

The belief that Washington needs a charter government—needs to have installed a simple, direct and efficient system of transacting the public business, is growing every day.

There are few people now, comparatively speaking, who would hesitate to discard the present top-heavy, costly and inefficient plan and adopt a plan which will place every dollar of the public money where it will get a dollar's worth of service or property.

Washington, like every other city, large and small, in Ohio, is suffering today from too much politics, too much lost motion in reaching out for results.

The present tax rate limit laws make imperative the elimination of the extravagant and useless in public affairs, if the revenues prove equal to the demand for necessities.

Cities must economize if they are to keep abreast of the demand for improvements and live within the income which the law now limits.

Time was when all expenses could be met by simply increasing the amount of tax receipts but we can't do that now. The laws, very properly, compel cities to commence at the other end and cut off useless expense. Spend the public money judiciously and abolish all useless offices.

That's not old fashioned politics, but it's business and, in smaller cities like Washington, business men are compelled to force business principles into public affairs.

The time is right here, right now, to inaugurate a movement for the adoption of a charter. It will be a big step forward for the city.

Pitching Horse Shoes

Pitching horseshoes is one of the old timers. In this rapidly developing country of ours pitching horses shoes has long been crowded out of popular favor save only in the out of the way villages and cross road settlements.

When the blacksmith shops were numerous throughout the rural sections the farmer boys and farmer men too would congregate while waiting their turn with the smithy. Story-telling and trading experiences together with discussion of the latest neighborhood gossip did not suffice to pass the time.

Horses shoes were convenient and plentiful and the game grew in popularity.

With the coming of the larger settlements the popularity of the game began to wane and during the last decade, with the coming of the automobile the rural blacksmith has not had so many callers nor so many to wait about the shop while away the time. The game of "horse shoes" seemed doomed to become a lost art entirely but somebody, somewhere began a revival and it has swept the state.

Now no county fair, no reunion, no picnic and no other public gathering is complete without a horseshoe pitching contest.

It's a fine, clean, generous, neighborly sport and the individual who revived its waning popularity is entitled to the thanks of an amusement surfeited people.

Poetry For Today

THE EASE OF BITTERNESS.

It is so easy to be mean.
 To say the sharp and bitter thing,
 Too quickly is the opening seen
 To launch a dart and leave a sting
 That one must ever check his thought
 And fear the harm that may be wrought.

I know not why it should be true
 That bitter speech is quickly framed
 While praise of all the good we view
 Is slow to come and often lamed.
 We stumble when we're kind, and yet

We race the words that we regret.
 I would that sweet words had the wings
 By which the speech of hate is borne,
 And envy's shafts were leaden things,
 There would be fewer hearts forlorn.
 But since men have not made them so
 With bitter speech we should be slow.

DRAMATIC INCIDENTS.

How Sothorn Learned of the Deaths of Booth and McCullough.

It has been my fortune to encounter two rather startling coincidents in connection with the death of Mr. Booth and John McCullough.
 The night that Edwin Booth died I was taking supper in the dining room of the Players' club with three friends. There were no other men in the club. It was about 2 o'clock in the morning. We, of course, knew that Mr. Booth was ill, but his death was not expected immediately. While we were talking over our meal suddenly every light in the club went out. My companions began to call for the waiter and protest loudly. From the darkness right at our elbows a voice, that of Mr. McGonegal, the manager of the club, said: "Hush! Mr. Booth is dead."

The day Mr. McCullough died I happened to be studying the play of "Cymbeline." I was reading the song in act 4—

Fear no more the heat o' the sun
 Nor the furious winter's rages.
 Thou thy worldly task hast done,
 Home art gone and ta'en thy wages.
 Golden lads and girls all must
 As chimney sweepers come to dust.
 When a friend of mine opened the door of my room in the Sturtevant House and said, "McCullough's dead."—From "My Remembrances," by E. H. Sothorn in Scribner's Magazine.

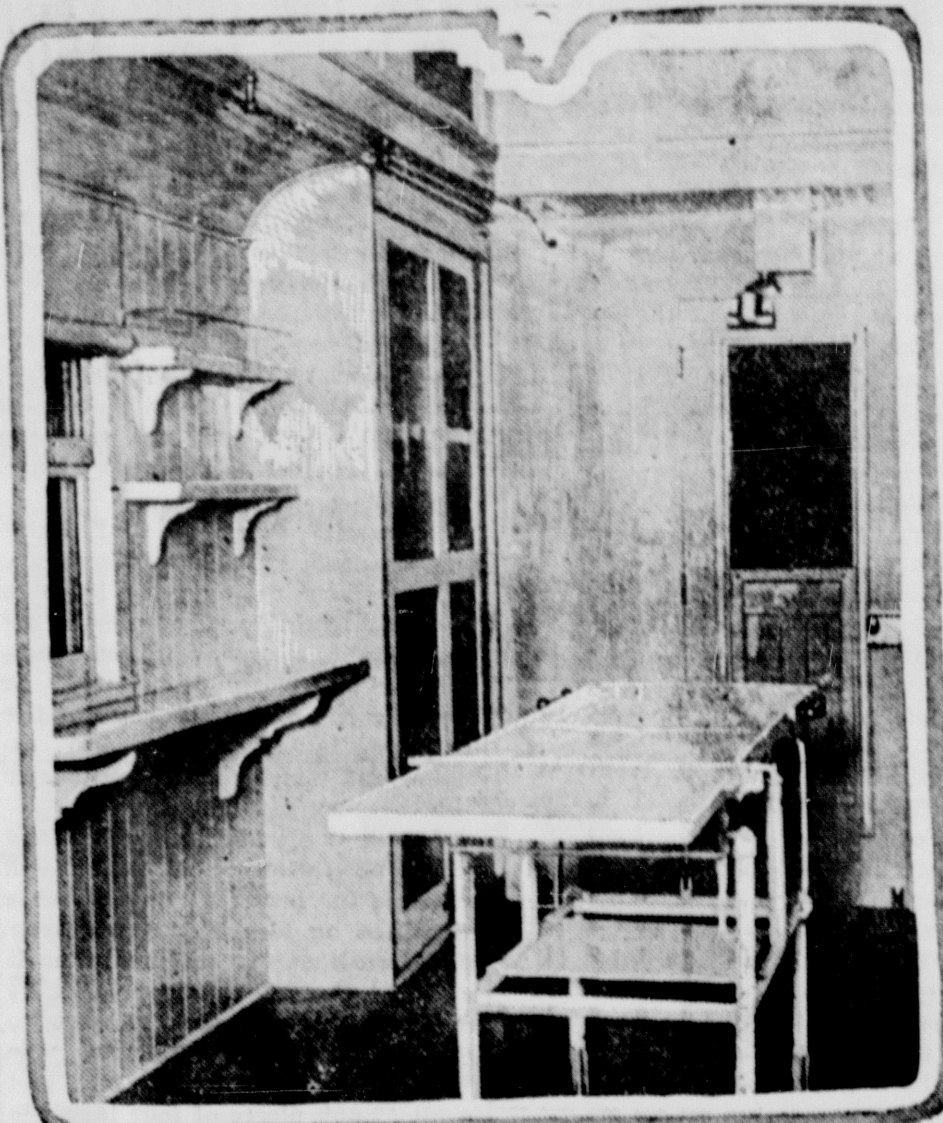

Let this be your constant maxim.

 BILLY SUNDAY IS NOW PUTTING SOME OF HIS FAMOUS POSES INTO FARMING.

a member of the Chicago White Sox team in the late eighties, for the time being has apparently forgotten baseball and evangelism. The caller at the Odell place on a summer day will find Mr. and Mrs. Sunday out in the open air weeding flowers, picking berries, helping with the hay, opening rills of irrigation ditches, watching the antics of pigs or ponies or engaged in some sort of open air game.

When the writer, accompanying the Rev. W. B. Young, pastor of the Asbury Methodist church of this city, and his wife, visited the Sunday home Mrs. Sunday was picking red raspberries and currants, which were being made into delicious sun cooked preserves and jellies.

"Our jellies," Mrs. Sunday said, "are just as good as the choicest confections."

Sunday was soon located, and he told his visitors while he kept hoeing that the pine odor laden air renews his strength.

The way to wealth is as plain as the way to market; it depends chiefly on two words—Industry and frugality.—Franklin.

Ruined His Climax.

It used to be the annual custom of Mr. Ledger, proprietor of the London Era and a clever journalist, to entertain the theatrical celebrities of the day at dinner and to commemorate the occasion by some Lucullan freak.

He once had eighty strawberry plants carefully nurtured in pots so that at dessert he might say to his guests, each opposite a blooming strawberry plant, "Now, my dear friends, gather your own fruit."

The dinner had progressed finely to the dessert when the service seemed slow. Ledger cried to his man: "Come, come! The dessert!"
 "In a minute, sir," was the reply.
 "They've nearly finished picking the strawberries!"—London Globe.

The Right Road.

The right road is a long road,
 And at times it may be rough;
 But don't leave it for the wrong road
 That is paved with sham and bluff.
 And don't mistake the smiling
 Of the men who travel there;
 Or the gold that they are piling,
 As a sign that all is fair.

For beneath the jewels shining
 And the pleasures they possess,
 And behind their hours of winning,
 There is fearful loneliness
 Though the road that they are taking
 Seems a splendid thoroughfare,
 Hearts for honest joys are aching,
 And the lives they live are bare.

There are rough spots in the right road.
 There are dangers grim to face;
 And it's often not a bright road,
 But it's free from all disgrace.
 And it's lined with friends to love you,
 And its joys are of the best;
 And when stars come out above you,
 With a conscience clear you rest.

He Quit His Kidding.

"I've quit kidding," said a business man. "That kind of chickens come home to roost and can't be driven away again, I've found to my sorrow."

"The way of it was this: A few days ago I took my wife to a well known restaurant for luncheon. We got a table next to that occupied by a pair of fellows whom I have 'kidded' unmercifully in times past. In a moment of temporary mental aberration I introduced these fellows, both good friends of mine, who can take a joke and never wince under it, however severe it may be on them, to my wife.
 "The quicker witted of the two, seeing an opportunity to get square with me for the last joke I played on him, said without a smile: 'I am delighted to make your acquaintance, Mrs. B.—The last woman Mr. B.—introduced as his wife had red hair.'"
 "When I tell you that my wife has black hair you can readily understand the position this placed me in. As a matter of fact I am not out of it yet, as she more than half believed that I had met these fellows with a red headed woman whom I passed off as my wife. I don't know whether I will ever be able to convince her that they were 'kidding,' so I've stopped it."—Philadelphia Press.

Family Pride.

The following story is told of the mayor of a western city:
 A small boy who afterward proved to be a nephew of one of the mayor's stenographers was wandering about in the city hall when one of the officials there happened upon him.
 "Well, sonny," inquired the man genially, "for whom are you looking?"
 "For my Aunt Kate."
 "Can't you find her?"
 "I can't seem to."

No Sale.

Notwithstanding the fact that the ventures of native students into the labyrinths of English are sometimes adventures indeed, nevertheless it is the mistakes of the Americans who attempt to express themselves prematurely in other languages which most appeal to our risibles. The Spanish word for sons is "hijos," for figs "higos." One can therefore easily understand how the following conversation might easily have taken place. A lady went to a grocery store to buy figs. The conversation actually was as follows:

"Have you any sons?"
 "Yes," replied the storekeeper pleasantly.
 "White ones?"
 To this the man replied in the affirmative.

"Very well, I will take one pound, if you please," said the lady.

The storekeeper is said to have replied that they were not for sale, and certainly not by the pound.—World Outlook.

Where the Splinter Came From.

Certain members of the house party were describing the accidents that had happened to them during their various careers. Adventures by flood, fire and field had all been well received, and De Sappley, eager for fame, thought it was his turn.

"I'd you know," he said, "I had a very painful experience once. I ran a confounded splinter quite half an inch long right under my finger nail, don't you know?"

"Really, Mr. de Sappley," said a maiden of the party. "How did you do it?"

"Well," he said, "it happened like this." As he spoke he unconsciously raised his hand and scratched his forehead.

"Oh, I see," she interrupted sweetly. "How very careless of you!"

PLOWS UP BOX OF COINS.

A Thousand Dollars in Silver Found on Louisiana Farm.

Ruston, La.—While John W. Skinner, a farmer of this section, was plowing his field the blade of his plow struck an old iron box, which burst open, revealing more than $1,000 in old silver coin.

The money was brought here and deposited in a bank. It is mostly of foreign mintage, and some of the pieces are 139 years old. The identity of the original owner could not be traced.

Advice.

"There's one sure way to get along in this world."

"What's that?"

"Quit fretting about the things some one else has and keep hustling for the things that so far no one has and you can get for yourself if you're first on the job."—Detroit Free Press.

ATHLETICS TAKE FIRST OF SERIES

Base Rnning Riot Ensues In the Eighth Inning of First Wilmington-Washington Game and Defeat Turns to Victory.

HITTING LIVELY
PLAYING STEADY

Umpiring Satisfactory to Both Sides—Heironimus Gets a Homer—Jones Goes to Pieces—Fetherlin Does Himself Proud.

While the stands rocked to the uproar of the largest and loudest throng of fans that has crowded into Athletic Park this season, the Athletics, as though making up for lost time, waded into the mighty Heironamus with a vengeance in the eighth inning of the Clinton-Athletic game here Sunday afternoon, and before the riot ceased six Athletics had circled the bases and crossed the pan.

The timely streak had the effect of turning what had seemed a defeat for the locals into an overwhelming victory, and converting an otherwise close and steady ball game into an old time slug fest.

The final score was 6 to 2. Wilmington tallied one in the fifth on Heironamus' home run into left, and another in the seventh on a fumble by Jones at second. Washington got all her scores in the eighth, a ten minute bitting streak following a neat single drive by Fetherlin into center.

From a batting standpoint, the game was spectacular and one of the most exciting seen here in many days. As to fielding generally, it lacked the sensational element but on both sides was consistent throughout.

Nip Jones, at second for Washington, was off his feed entirely after the first few innings. He was relieved in the eighth at the bat by Art Grandle, and his place at second was taken by Adams, who in turn was succeeded in the sub-garden by Grandle.

The umpiring of Thompson, of Dayton, was a pleasing feature and about the most satisfactory seen in a Washington-Wilmington game in several seasons. Manager Powell of the Clintons warmly praised the ump's square and businesslike performance and both Wilmington and Washington fans agreed.

Notwithstanding the flare-up in the eighth, the pitching of Heironamus may be considered as very good, and he did not lose his head even then. The Clintons played well behind him all during the game, and indications are that there will be some lively struggles before the five-game series, of which Sunday's game was the first, is over. Wilmington's most conspicuous weakness Sunday was the lack of Stan Arthur.

Fetherlin, just back from Eastern league diamonds, pitched and hit with equal facility and won his way to the hearts of the local fans.

MUST DIM LIGHTS OR FACE MAYOR

Repeated complaints having been made of brilliant headlights on automobiles in this city, with no attempt to dim same, and Mayor Oster has issued notice that brilliant headlights must be dimmed when approaching another car, or the ordinance prohibiting brilliant lights will be called into action.

Many auto drivers have made complaint of the nuisance, and stated that accidents have nearly resulted upon a number of occasions because of the blinding lights of approaching machines.

Not only have auto drivers complained, but drivers of other vehicles have joined in the effort to bring about enforcement of the ordinance requiring dimmed headlights.

WASHINGTON MAN HAS BIG CONTRACT IN ROSS COUNTY

C. C. Mann of this city, has a contract for laying some 57,000 pieces of drain tile on one farm in Ross county; the draining enterprise is probably the most expensive ever undertaken on one farm in Ross county.

The Scioto Gazette interestingly describes the project in the following article:

"Charles F. Coppel, of South Paint street, who a little over a year ago purchased the Higby glade lands in Franklin township, is at present engaged in one of the biggest engineering feats ever attempted in Ross county. Miles and miles of tile are being laid in an effort to reclaim land which for over a quarter of a century lay dormant.

"About two hundred acres of land on the northwest section of the farm which is the lowest portion, is being tiled, and an idea of the immensity of the work may be obtained when it is stated that in a rear field of 54 acres thirty-nine rows of tiling were placed. The distance between the rows varies from 20 to 45 feet, and in all 57,000 pieces of four inch tile were laid to the main sewer, which has a ten-inch outlet. There are from 800 to 1000 pieces of tile in each row. This section of the farm had been in wheat last year, and parts of it were so wet that a team could not pass through it, and it had to be abandoned. This year it has already been plowed and the land with the cultivation given it, promises to be as good as any in that neighborhood. The front field is now being ditched and it will take from five to six weeks more to complete the work. In this field there is a line of sewer a half mile long, and before the earth was placed over the tile it was tested by hauling barrels of water. There was a perfect flow.

"At first Mr. Coppel started in on the project of mowing his own tile of cement, but the workmen engaged at this work could not keep up with the ditcher and as a result 16 cars of red clay tile have been purchased and hauled to the farm. In all about 21 cars of tile will have been placed in the two front fields. Last year, before corn planting time, 20,000 concrete tile were placed in a rear field which is not included in the present work.

"C. C. Mann of Washington C. H. who has the ditching contract, uses a Buckeye Traction Ditcher and the ditches are made from 16 inches to three feet deep. The contractor is emphatic in saying that it is by far the biggest work he ever undertook, and hundreds of persons who drive by the farm daily are interested and stop to look. It is certainly a wonderful effort to reclaim land and Ohio State Engineers, who laid off a part of the ground, are enthusiastic about it. They say it is the greatest work they ever saw, and all admire Mr. Coppel's wonderful pluck.

"Since the land was purchased 2 houses were built on the place for tenants, and contracts are about to be let for a third. All of this work is costing a world of money, but Mr. Coppel feels sure that the outlay will be justified."

ROAD WORKING IS PROGRESSING

Not since the highways in Fayette county were constructed back in the seventies, has road working been conducted on the mammoth scale as at the present time, and scores of car loads of crushed stone are being applied to the roads each week in addition to thousands of loads of gravel.

The work is being conducted on a huge scale throughout the county, and it is expected that when the work is finished within the next few weeks that tens of miles of road will have received a liberal application of stone and gravel.

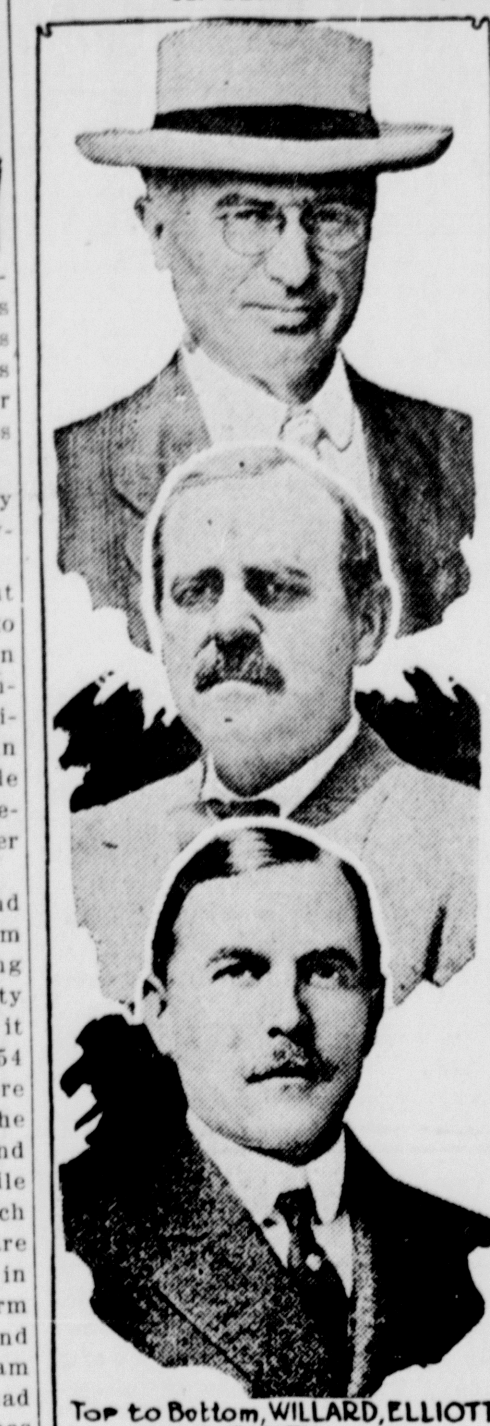

Part of the work is being paid for out of the two mill road levy, and the remainder out of the regular road fund.

GLENDON BRIDGE TO BE REPAIRED

The only overhead railroad crossing in the county is to undergo repairs. The crossing is located at Glendon, or Rattlesnake, where the roadway crosses over both the Pennsylvania and B. & O. tracks, and the structure has become somewhat dilapidated.

The Commissioners are in receipt of word from both railroads stating they will give their immediate attention to repairing the bridge.

RAILROAD HEADS CALLED TO CONSULT PRESIDENT ON STRIKE OF 400,000

Top to Bottom, WILLARD, ELLIOTT, and SMITH

The railroad presidents summoned to the White House by President Wilson in his endeavor to find a basis of settlement of the troubles between the railroads and their operating employees were the following: Daniel Willard of the Baltimore & Ohio; Samuel Rea of the Pennsylvania; A. H. Smith, of the New York Central; F. D. Underwood of the Erie; Howard Elliott of the New Haven; Hale Holden of the Burlington; W. J. Harahan of the Seaboard Air Line; L. F. Loree of the Delaware and Hudson; B. F. Bush of the Missouri Pacific; President Calvin of the Union Pacific; President Sproule of the Southern Pacific; President Stevens of the Chesapeake & Ohio; S. M. Felton of the Chicago Great Western; Fairfax Harrison of the Southern; E. P. Ripley of the Santa Fe, President Aishton of the Chicago and Northwestern and A. J. Earling of the St. Paul.

WORK ON HIGHWAYS IS MOVING FORWARD

Contractors Mark & Van Gundy expect to complete the paving of the Bloomingburg and Midway pike from the Willis Hill to the state road, this week, so that within another two weeks the road should be open to traffic.

The work has been greatly retarded because teams and laborers were so difficult to get.

On the Leesburg pike where the same contractors are building two miles of tar-bound macadam pike, a half mile of stone is in position, four-fifths of the grading and all sewers completed, and the first tar will be applied sometime this week.

On the Sabina pike the work of building sewers preparatory to opening up the building of more than seven miles of road, is under way.

SUGAR GROVE W. C. T. U. The Sugar Grove W. C. T. U. will meet at the home of Mrs. Alma King on the Greenfield pike, Wednesday afternoon, August 23. Election of officers. Every member urged to be present.

EXCESSIVE HEAT HAS JUST MADE UP FOR COOL SPRING

Sunday Said to Be Hottest Day of Season, With Night a Scorcher—Local Weather Man Says Cooler Weather Must Come or Normal Amount of Heat Will Be Used and Frost Will Be Early.

The atmospheric temperature without exposure, Sunday afternoon as shown by the government thermometer, was 98 degrees, second hottest day of the season, although in the sunshine the temperature reached 15 to 20 degrees higher. The day was the hottest or second hottest of the season.

Not only was the day a scorcher, but Sunday night was probably the hottest of the season until the torridity was somewhat lessened by the storms nearby between midnight and one o'clock.

Regardless of the excessive heat of the past four or five weeks, the excess heat had not made up for the cool weather of the spring until Saturday, when the normal amount of heat for the spring and summer months up to that time was recorded.

In a given number of months the total average heat is so much, and this point was not reached until Saturday, and Monday the balance was beginning to swing the other way, and the mercury was about 10 degrees above normal.

In order to ward off frost it is necessary from now on that the heat not become too great, or according to a local man who makes the matter a study and who keeps all weather records for the government, the amount of heat for the summer will have been used up and cool weather and frost will come earlier than if the weather moderates from now onward.

BAINBRIDGE MAN SAVED FROM DEATH

While returning home Sunday night Elton Underwood discovered a man lying in the middle of the D. T. & I. tracks near the old passenger station. The man was sound asleep.

Summoning assistance Underwood aroused the man and had hardly gotten him off the track when a freight train passed over the track.

The man refused to divulge his name, stated he had not been drinking, and appeared in a half-dazed condition.

In Social Circles

A quiet wedding of interest to a wide circle of friends took place Saturday afternoon when Mr. McKinley Anderson was united in marriage to Miss Lela Nelson, the very attractive young daughter of Mr. John Nelson of Manara. Justice of the Peace R. J. Nelson performed the ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. Anderson went at once to their home on S. Main street which was tastefully furnished and in readiness for them.

Mr. Anderson is a well known business man of this county. For some years he operated a grocery at Waterloo and about a month ago came to this city and purchased the Jacob's grocery on the corner of South Main and Elm streets which has since been under his management.

Both young people have the best wishes of a host of friends in town and county.

Mrs. H. G. Coffman entertained Saturday afternoon with an extremely pretty tea, honoring Miss Lulu Clark, of Dayton, the guest of Mrs. Daniel H. Van Winkle.

It was a debutante tea, with a most attractive coterie of nearly half a hundred college girls and representatives of the younger society set.

The girls made a charming picture in summery gowns and picture hats as they grouped around the tea table, artistic in its arrangement and having for its embellishment a lovely centerpiece of white asters and fern.

The honor guest looked very cunning in a modish white organdie and Mrs. Van Winkle, a charming hostess, wore a lingerie gown of white net.

A yellow and white color scheme was daintily carried out in the refectory of the tea room. Refreshing fruit punch was served from the buffet.

Assisting in the afternoon's hospitalities were Mrs. Daniel Van Winkle, Misses Grace Van Winkle, Geraldine Coffman, Lila Willis, Lillian Davis, Dorothy Rogers, Mary Tysor.

Guests from out of town were Mrs. Joseph H. Donnell, of Washington, D. C., Miss Charlotte Martin of Columbus, Miss Katharine Kelley of Xenia.

The following announcement from a Cleveland paper will be read with no small interest by the many friends of Mr. Ben C. Parrett, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Parrett, prominent residents of this city until their removal to Cleveland two years ago.

"Mr. and Mrs. William J. Flanagan, of 1241 East Eighty-third street, announce the engagement of their daughter, Pauline Jane, to Mr. Ben C. Parrett, of 1473 East 106th street.

The wedding is to take place in September.

Miss Florence Conner and Mr. Fred Conner entertained with a delightful little supper at the Conner homestead near Jeffersonville Sunday evening.

Their guests were Mr. and Mrs. Bennett King and daughter, Miss Florence, Mr. and Mrs. Howard McLean and son Russell, and Mr. Russell Townsley of Lancaster.

returned to their home in Pennville, Ind., Saturday.

Mr. Charles Morrow of Columbus is the guest of Mr. Frank Edwards.

Misses Ruah and Doris Edwards are visiting their aunt, Mrs. Franz Botzel in Springfield.

Miss Grace Louderback has returned from a stay of several months in Erie, Pa.

Mr. Tom E. Murray has returned from a trip through California with the Robinson circus.

Miss Esther Durant has returned to her home in Tarleton after a visit with her brother, Mr. John Durant and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Charles and son Leonard were the Sunday guests of Mrs. P. P. Wigginton and daughter, Miss Addie.

Mr. Jess H. Millikan and cousin, Mr. Frank Logan of Waverly, returned Sunday evening from a motoring trip to Cincinnati.

Mrs. Harry Olges, and little son Harold of Walnut Hills, Cincinnati, are the guests of Mrs. J. M. Kershner.

Mr. David M. Glascock returned to Cleveland Saturday after a visit with his mother, Mrs. Georgiana Glascock.

Mrs. Loren Sever and daughter Marjorie, and Ludene Reeder spent Sunday with relatives of Mrs. Sever at Jeffersonville.

Mr. T. R. Vandervoort, the new B. & O. ticket agent, and wife, have moved from Hamden to this city and are residing at 175 Columbus avenue.

Dr. and Mrs. Roger Ferris motored down from Columbus Sunday to take home their daughter Miss Lotie Ferris, from a visit with Miss Mary DeWees.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Neal and family motored to Wellington Sunday to visit Mr. Neal's mother. They will also visit relatives in Mansfield and Cleveland before returning.

Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Evans have returned to their home in Washington, D. C., after a two months' visit with their daughter, Mrs. P. M. Cook.

Miss Sarah Templin, Mr. Al Watson of Columbus, and Miss Susie Templin of this city, spent the week end with Mrs. W. E. Davis of Greenfield.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Kelly and children went to Bainbridge Monday where they will spend the week guests of Mr. Kelly's uncle, Mr. James Sylvester and wife.

Mr. Frank Christopher joined his family to spend Sunday with relatives in North Lewiston. His wife and daughters, who have been visiting there, returned home with him.

Mrs. Phoebe Van Pelt and son Walter have returned home after spending two months with Mrs. Van Pelt's son-in-law, and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Burch, at Newark, Ohio.

Miss Ima Lynch of this city is spending the week in Dayton with her aunt, Mrs. Sue McCoy, and Miss Stoneberger and other friends.

Prof. O. K. Probasco returned Saturday from New York, having completed the six weeks summer course of the graduate school of Secondary Education, at Columbia University.

Mr. J. M. Shoemaker, secretary of the 8th District U. S. Civil Service Department, and family, of St. Paul, Minn., are the guests of Mr. Shoemaker's brother-in-law, Mr. John Durant, and family.

Mrs. Ralph Penn and little daughter Marjorie, returned Sunday from a visit in Columbus. Mr. Penn and Mrs. Penn's sister, Mrs. C. C. Irwin, of Greenfield motored up to Columbus to bring them home.

Mr. George Donohoe and family, accompanied by their guests, Mr. Frank Donohoe, and family, of Winchester, Ind., and Mr. Oscar Hill of Blue Springs, Neb., attended the Donohoe reunion at New Holland, Sunday.

Miss Minnie Tharp, who has been the guest of Miss Doris Sever the past week, returned Sunday to her home in Dayton. Miss Sever and Miss Emma Lynch accompanied her home, Miss Lynch remaining for a week's visit with her aunt, Mrs. L. W. McCoy and family.

Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Simmons, little daughters Elizabeth and Gertrude, returned Sunday evening to their home in Columbus, after a week-end visit with Mrs. Martha Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. McCoy and Mr. and Mrs. Willard Wilson.

Mrs. Mae McCoy, who formerly taught in the local high school, visited in this city Sunday enroute from Columbus where she has been teaching in Bliss College, to Greenfield, where she will have supervision of the Commercial department of the McClain high school the coming year.

Dr. and Mrs. Paul Hildebrandt are expected to return to Washington C. H. the middle of this week to reside once more in their residence on E. Temple street. Dr. Hildebrandt has spent the past two months in Ann Arbor, Michigan, taking special work in the surgical department of the University of Michigan Homeopathic Medical School. Dr. and Mrs. Hildebrandt motored through, returning via Jackson, Mich., to visit Mrs. Hildebrandt's relatives. Dr. Hugh R. Hildebrandt is now practicing medicine and surgery in Ann Arbor, where he is first assistant in the department of Gynecology and Obstetrics, University of Michigan.

ALLEGED FORGER IS UNDER ARREST

Burton Acord, alias Burton Moore, against whom an affidavit was filed in this city, charging him with uttering two forged checks, totaling $45, was arrested in Chillicothe Saturday afternoon and brought to this city Saturday night by Chief Moore, who placed him in the county jail to await a hearing.

The arrest was made by Strawder McNeal and Deputy Sheriff Porter Haynes upon information furnished them from this city some two weeks ago. Acord was located at his home on Hirt street.

Acord was formerly in the employ of T. J. Junk of near Austin, and forged his name to two checks which were cashed by dealers in this city. The checks were drawn on the Frankfort Bank.

Acord also is suspected of passing several bad checks in Chillicothe.

FLYING CRICKETS HERE BY MILLIONS

Little brown crickets—flying crickets, if you please—are here by the millions, and during the past few nights local citizens have found them almost equal to the mosquito in causing annoyance, although so far as known the little rascals do not make it a practice to subsist off of the human family.

As the shades of night begin to fall the flying cricket comes forth, creeps into residences, places of business, flocks over the streets and sidewalks, and adds to the night noises with his incessant crickets song.

SUGAR CORN CROP IS SHORT THIS YEAR

The sugar corn crop is short this season, and a large percentage of the corn now being brought to the canning plants in this city is not perfectly filled. The pack this year may not exceed a half crop and it is believed to be the shortest crop since the industry was started in this city.

However, both plants are now running steadily and employing a large number of persons, and the work will continue for some little time yet.

SESSION'S END NOW IN SIGHT

Work of Congress Is Nearing Completion.

DEBATE REVENUE MEASURE

Recommendation of Bond Issue to Meet Emergency Expenses Will Be Accepted, House Leaders Say—Minor Measures Have Small Chance For Consideration Before Adjournment.

Washington, Aug. 21.—Congress' adjournment now waits only on the passage of the emergency revenue bill, repassage of the army appropriation bill with amendments to meet President Wilson's veto, completion of the general deficiency appropriation measure and final action on a few conference reports, including the government shipping bill. Senate leaders who have grown optimistic over the rapid progress of legislation within the last few days, said they would be ready to adjourn next Saturday if the house could be prevailed upon to accept the amended revenue bill without a fight. This does not seem likely, however, and because of some discussion that may arise over general deficiency appropriations, Congress probably will not be ready for the adjournment gavel before Sept. 1 or 2.

Fears of indefinite delay resulting from President Wilson's veto of the army appropriation bill because of its exemption from the military code of retired officers and men have almost entirely disappeared. The house will re-pass the bill under special rule with the articles of war which caused Representative Hays' objectionable amendment, eliminated. It will be rushed to the senate, where the plan is to re-insert the articles of war minus the Hays amendment. Unless present plans miscarry, the bill will then go to conference and Representative Hays, his friends declare, will then surrender. There is a possibility, however, that the articles of war will be thrown out in the senate on a point of order that they are not germane to an appropriation bill.

Today the senate began discussion of the revenue bill, designed to raise $250,000,000 annually through income, inheritance, munitions, liquor, corporation stock and miscellaneous taxes. Senator Simmons, chairman of the finance committee, opened debate on the measure and he has been assured by Republican leaders who propose to make the bill the target for vigorous political assault that they can finish their attack in four or five days at the most. Some time, however, will be taken by Democratic senators who oppose certain features of the bill.

The recommendation for a bond issue of $130,000,000 to meet expenses of the Mexican emergency, house leaders say, will be accepted, having originally been suggested by the ways and means committee.

Republican and Democratic leaders alike assert that odds and ends of legislation still pending will be entirely overlooked in the final drive for adjournment and that nothing can prevent congress getting away after the revenue and general deficiency bills are passed. They declare such things as corrupt practices legislation, woman suffrage and the treaty for the purchase of the Danish West Indies did not have the ghost of a chance for consideration unless unexpected developments should prolong the session.

TRAIL OF DEATH

(By American Press)
Waupaca, Wis., Aug. 21.—Jilted by a girl of 16 years, and with a mysterious letter from the Ohio girl to whom he was supposed to be betrothed, Bert H. Drew, 45 years old, a farmer living eight miles from Nora amuck, when his career of death had ended, he had killed Elizabeth Luft, the girl who refused to marry him, her mother, Mrs. Adam Luft, had fired five shots at the girl's crippled brother, as he fled, and killed himself. Every shot which found a target brought death.

The letter, which apparently started the man on his death dealing rage, was from Miss Edna Dratt, of Akron, Ohio. He destroyed the letter before taking the rifle and seeking out the other girl in the strange tangle.

FIVE ARE KILLED

ONE HUNDRED SHOTS EXCHANGED

(By American Press)

Naco, Ariz., Aug. 21.—Over 100 shots were exchanged across the international line and about a mile west of here between patrols belonging to the colored militia troops from the District of Columbia and a party on the Mexican side. The militia say they halted some Mexicans who attempted to cross the line, and in answer to the challenge the Mexicans fired. In the fusillade that followed the only casualty was the wounding of one of the Mexicans who had tried to cross. He is now a prisoner in the camp of colored troops.

JUDGE LYNCH

(By American Press)

Gainesville, Fla., Aug. 21.—Two women and three men, all negroes, were taken from the jail at Newberry and hanged by a mob. Another negro was shot and killed by deputy sheriffs near Jonesville, Fla. All of the victims came to their deaths as the result of the killing of Constable S. G. Wynne and the shooting of Dr. L. G. Harris by Bolsey Long, a negro. The lynched negroes were accused of aiding Long to escape.

Dispatches from Newberry said that the mob which lynched the negroes was composed of about 200 men, and that it worked quietly and rapidly.

ANNUAL SESSION OF CATHOLICS

Princes of the Church and Lay men Take Part.

New York, Aug. 20.—Three princes of the Roman Catholic church, the papal delegate to the United States, the papal nuncio to Brazil, scores of bishops and other dignitaries, several hundred priests and thousands of laymen participated here in the celebration of a solemn pontifical high mass at St. Patrick's Cathedral. The occasion was the formal opening of the fifteenth annual convention of the American Federation of Catholic Societies and the sixty-first annual convention of the National Federation of German Catholics.

Scarcely in the history of the church has there been so notable a gathering of ecclesiastics outside of Rome. It was estimated that more than 8,000 persons crowded into the cathedral, while twice as many more congregated outside to view the procession which preceded the mass.

American and papal flags were hung above the cathedral entrance with great streamers of yellow and white the papal colors, suspended from each arch inside. High above all the decoration hung the red hat of the late Cardinal McCloskey, suspended from the arched ceiling over the chancel.

BAR "SHOP" TALK

(By American Press)

Washington, Aug. 21.—Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo has made known that he will deliver no political talks on his forthcoming tour with the federal farm loan board. That tour is to extend across the continent and as soon as it became known that the secretary of the treasury and president's son-in-law would appear in various cities this campaign year invitations to make political speeches began to pour in on him.

Secretary McAdoo takes the position that this is to be a business trip, one that has to do with important public interests connected with the establishment of farm loan banks and the creation of twelve farm loan districts and that it would not be right to mix partisan politics with it.

ONE STRIKE AVERTED

(By American Press)

Kansas City, Aug. 21.—Threatened strike of the 35,000 coal miners of Missouri, Kansas, Arkansas and Oklahoma has been averted. Compromises made by both operators and miners in the negotiations for the two-year contract enabled the sub-committee of the general conference to reach a complete agreement.

The tragedy, which is said to have been due to Bunch's jealousy of the attention she received from other men, took place in the apartments of the woman. The woman was taken to a hospital, where she died three hours later.

FEDERAL MEDIATORS STOP MANY STRIKES

Forty-seven Have Been Averted
Since Board Was Organized
In 1913.

Washington. — The United States board of mediation and conciliation, which was called upon by the government to prevent a national strike, was created on July 15, 1913, by act of congress. Its members were appointed by President Wilson three days later, and they acted in the railroad strike situation of 1913 and a strike was averted.

According to the act under which it was created the purposes of the board are: "To settle by mediation, conciliation and arbitration all controversies concerning wages, hours of labor or conditions of employment that may arise between any common carriers engaged in the transportation of passengers or property (in interstate commerce) and their employees."

The services of the board may be sought by either or both sides. Both sides must consent before it may act. It has no peremptory powers. In the forty-seven cases in which the board has been successful, thirty-nine were settled by mediation and eight by arbitration.

Its members are William L. Chambers, chairman; Martin A. Knapp and G. W. W. Hanger.

NEARLY BURIED AS A PAUPER

Body Sent to Morgue Saved by Public Administrator.

Kansas City, Mo.—Miss E. A. Heltcamp, a hair dresser, found Miss Anna

Leavy, sixty-five years old, dead in her home here. The body was taken to the morgue and would have been buried in the potter's field had not Miss Heltcamp notified Public Administrator Newell, who made a search of her home and found that she had fourteen shares in the Shapleigh Hardware company, par value $100 each; a bank book showing $402 in the Mechanics-American National bank; $14 in cash and a note for $1,500 executed in her favor in 1904 and signed, according to Miss Heltcamp, by a name which she thinks is that of a former official of the Shapleigh Hardware company, now in New York city.

Miss Leavy was a modiste, and was said to have made many of the gowns worn by queens of the Velled Prophet.

HOME MERCHANT

A hustling newspaper in a nearby town says:

Who is the home merchant?

He is the chap who gives you credit when you are financially broke, and carries your account until you are able to pay.

He is the chap who gives you back your money or makes exchanges when you are not satisfied with what you have bought.

He is the chap who stands behind his guaranty, and makes restoration of all losses that you may sustain on the goods you buy.

He is the chap who meets you at the door with a handshake, lets you out with a message to the "kids," and a real come again good-bye.

He is the chap who meets and greets you on the street every day in the year, and takes a neighborly interest in your family and your affairs.

He is the chap whose clerks and bookkeepers and other employes live here and spend their money with you and other local people.

He is the chap who pays heavy taxes to help support schools, and the fire department and police department, and lighting and water service.

He is the chap who helps support

churches, charity organizations, and lodges and boosts every day in the year.

He is the chap who visits you when you are sick, sends flowers to your family when you die, and follows your body out among the trees and tombs, as far as human feet may travel with the dead.

He is the home merchant—your neighbor—your friend—your helper in times of need.

Don't you think that you ought to trade with him, and be his friend and his helper in the time of his need?

Don't you know that every dollar that you send out of town for merchandise, is sent to strangers—to men who never spend a dollar here, to men who would not trust you for a box of matches.

Out-of-town people judge our city by the appearance of our stores and the degree of enterprise shown by our merchants. And our home merchants can not succeed unless home folks give them loyal support.

WILSON IS FIRM IN HIS DEMANDS

Railroad Presidents,
After Canvassing
Situation, Meet
With President
This Afternoon.

By Associated Press Dispatch.
WASHINGTON, AUGUST 21.—PRESIDENT WILSON TODAY REITERATED TO THE RAILROAD EXECUTIVES, INCLUDING THE NEW ARRIVALS FROM THE WEST, HIS DEMAND THAT THEY ACCEPT HIS PLAN FOR THE SETTLEMENT OF THE THREATENED RAILROAD STRIKE. THE EXECUTIVES THEN BEGAN THE FIRST OF A SERIES OF MEETINGS IN WHICH THEY WILL FRAME A REPLY. LOUIS W. HILL, PRESIDENT OF THE GREAT NORTHERN, WHO WAS THE FIRST TO ARRIVE AT THE WHITE HOUSE, WAS APPARENTLY IN GOOD HUMOR. HE, WITH THE OTHER EXECUTIVES, AGREED THAT IT SHOULD BE POSSIBLE TO REACH AN AGREEMENT WITHIN THE NEXT FEW DAYS.

PRESIDENT WILSON CALLED THE RAILROAD PRESIDENTS TO THE WHITE HOUSE AGAIN THIS AFTERNOON FOR ANOTHER CONFERENCE. It had been expected there would be no further move until tomorrow, but when the Western men arrived today the railroad managers canvassed the situation and found that all of the executives that could reach the capital within a reasonable time already had arrived. They so advised the White House and the President invited them to a conference at 2:30 o'clock. The railway heads spent several hours today trying to devise some form of settlement of the threatened strike which would still preserve the principle of arbitration and be one which President Wilson could prevail upon the men to accept. One of the suggestions the presidents were prepared to make at the White House was for legislation to create a board or commission to investigate when trouble threatens between railroad employers and employees.

CAUCUS GIVES SOME HOPES

Hill, President of the Great Northern,
Comes in Response to President's Invitation.

By Associated Press Dispatch.
Washington, August 21. — With the arrival here today of Louis W. Hill, president of the Great Northern, and other western railway executives, in response to President Wilson's summons, important developments in the threatened railroad strike situation were looked for, although no further general White House conference was expected before tomorrow. The President, however, made no engagements for today and stood ready to continue negotiations with the railroad executives. All the western presidents are expected before noon tomorrow.

SENATE TO CONSIDER IMMIGRATION BILL

By Associated Press Dispatch.
Washington, August 21. — By 27 to 24 the Senate today voted to take up the immigration bill which the Democratic caucus had determined to postpone until next session. Nine Democrats voted with Republicans for the motion.

When debate and the provision relating to Asiatics was begun, galleries were cleared and consideration of those features proceeded in secret.

CLEVELAND HOT

By Associated Press Dispatch.
Cleveland, O., August 21.—Local heat records for the season were threatened today when the thermometer registered 100 at one o'clock.

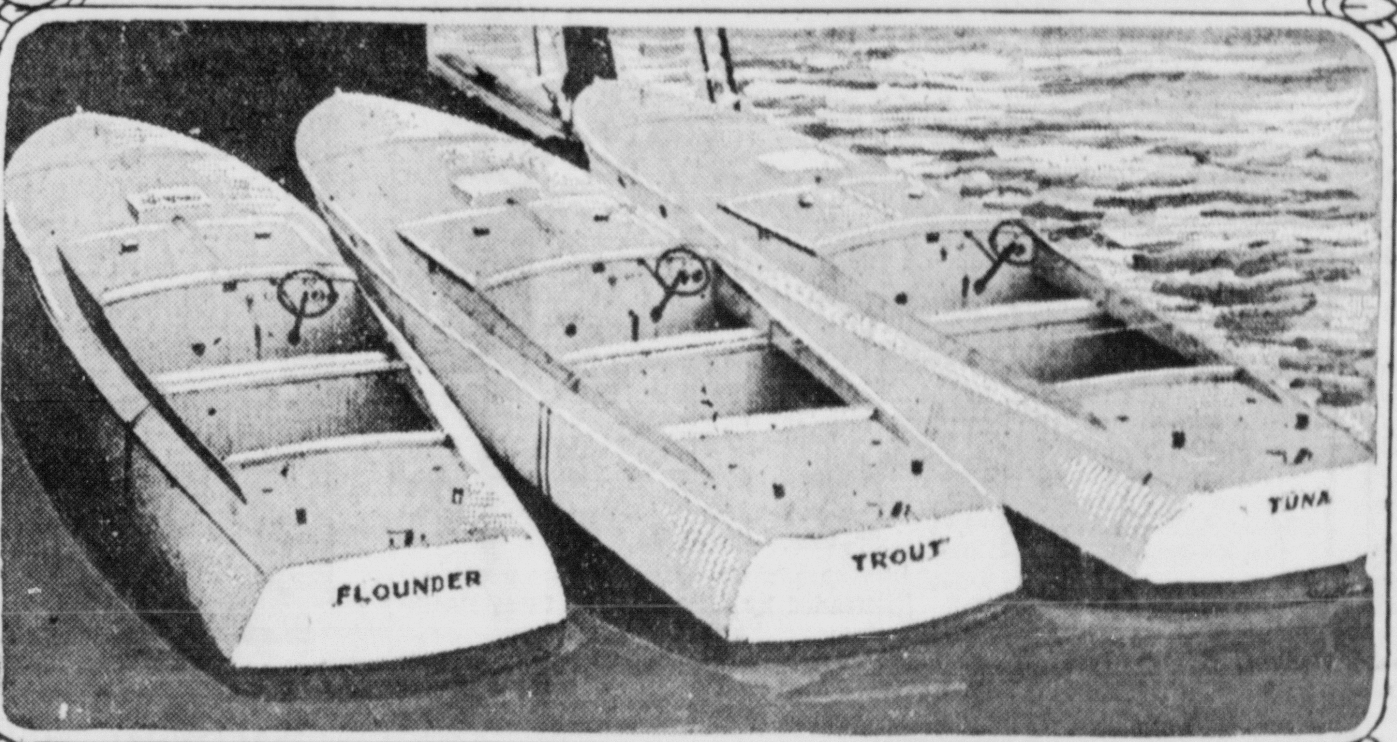

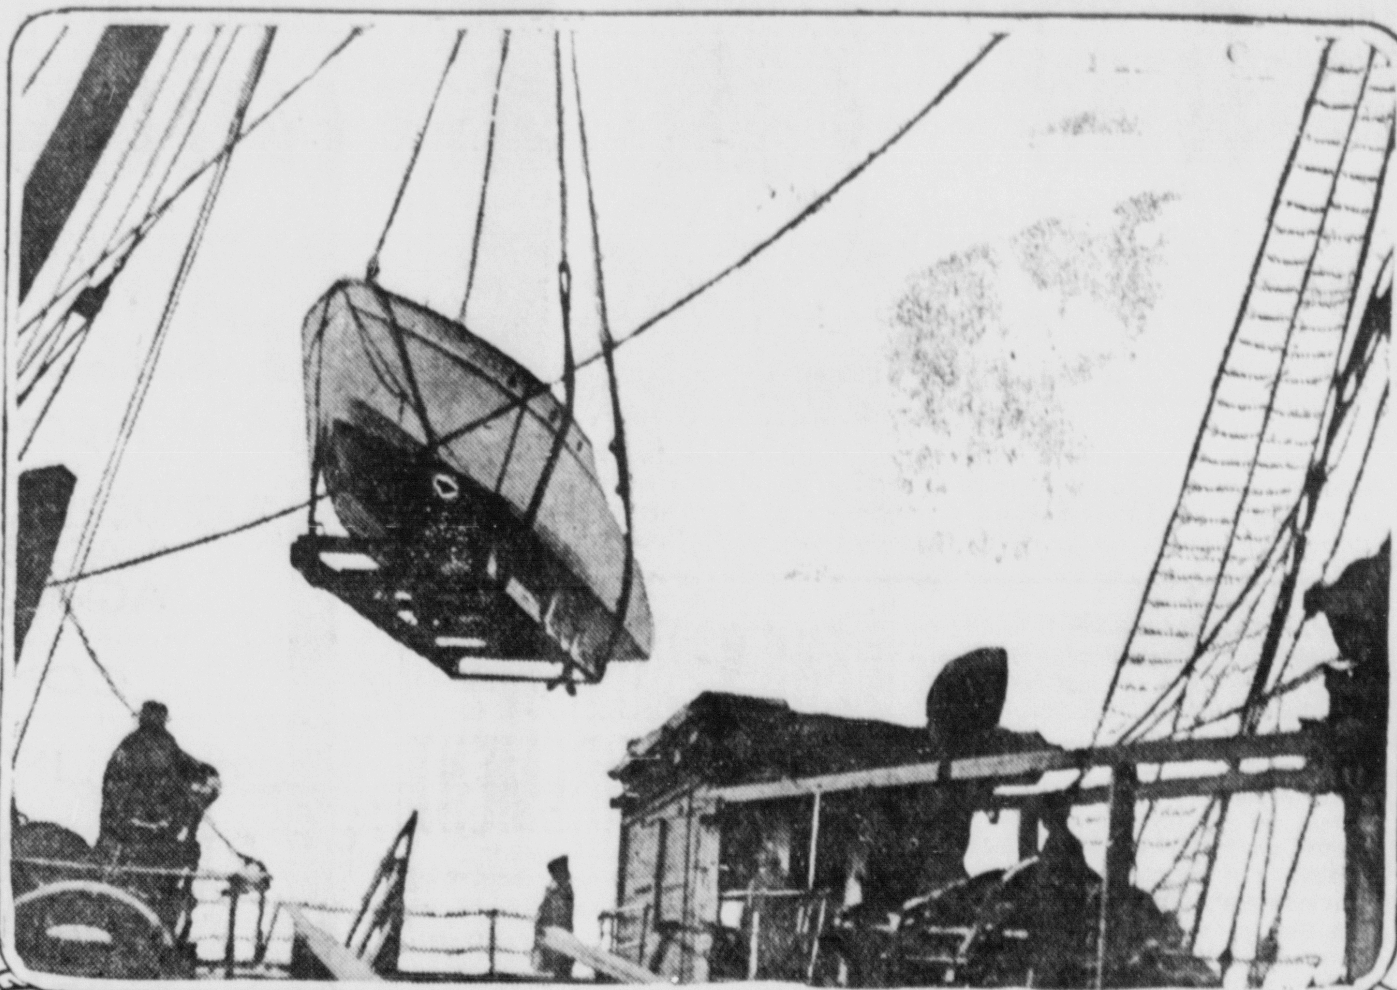

The season's record is 103. Six babies died on account of the heat.

THREE KILLED AUTO CRASH

Tragedy at Owingsville Costs Lives of Three—Others Injured.

By Associated Press Dispatch.
Owingsville, Ky., August 21.—William Ruggles, John Pennington and Miss Lora Rainey, all of this city, were killed and three others badly hurt when an automobile in which they were riding ran off a bridge across a small creek here today, turning over and landing on the rocky bottom.

"SEA WASPS" BUILT HERE FOR BRITISH TO CHASE GERMANY'S SUBMARINES

SOME OF GREAT BRITAIN'S NEW "SUBMARINE CHASERS"

Here are some of the fast "submarine chasers," part of an order of forty, built in South Boston for use in guarding the coasts of Great Britain. Six of them have been shipped from Boston. All are named after various fish of the sea. They are 100 horsepower gasoline launches, of uniform design, forty feet long and capable of making twenty-five knots. The contracts were awarded last spring, and it is said they cost $4,000 each. The boats are very heavily constructed forward, evidently with the idea of mounting a small gun, probably three inch caliber, in the bow. They have long trunk, cabins and have accommodations for two or three men. They are of V bottom type, and the motors are equipped with a special carbureting device, by means of which either gasoline or heavier oils may be used. The steering gear is like that of an automobile.

28 KILLED WHEN BOILER EXPLODES

By Associated Press Dispatch.
Jackson, Tenn., August 21.—Eight men were killed and a number are missing in a boiler explosion today at the Harlan Norris Stave Factory. A large number of men were out of the works at the time.

CAMP WILLIS SIZZLING HOT

Almost Perfect Health of 8000 Men Enables Them to Stand Heat.

By Associated Press Dispatch.
Camp Willis, Columbus, August 21.—The health of the troops at Camp Willis remains almost perfect, according to reports from the camp today.

With practically 8,000 troops at the camp, there rarely are more than 15 men in the hospital and these have minor ailments.

The heat of yesterday, when the thermometer registered over 100 degrees, caused no prostration, and most of the men attended church services.

Field maneuvers are being planned for the guardsmen, to be held as soon as more ground can be obtained.

Daily hikes have conditioned the men so that a ten-mile march a day is considered easy for them.

FIRST SETTLES DOWN TO CAMP WORK

By Associated Press Dispatch.
Camp Perry, O., August 21.—Officers and men of the First Regiment, Ohio National Guard, of Cincinnati, settled down to hard work today.

The regiment was in fine shape on its arrival, not a case of illness being reported.

SUNDAY'S RECORD

(Associated Press Dispatch)

New York, August 21.—

During the 24 hours preceding 10 a. m. today, infantile paralysis killed 33 children and 92 new cases were reported, as compared with 108 cases and 20 deaths yesterday.

ITALIANS LAND AT SALONIKA

Disembarkation of the Troops From Italy, the Unrest of the Greeks and Movements of Bulgarian Forces Forecast Launching of Balkan Offensive.

(Associated Press Cable.)

LONDON, AUGUST 21. — ITALIAN TROOPS ARE TO TAKE PART IN THE IMPORTANT CAMPAIGN JUST OPENING IN THE BALKANS ACCORDING TO SALONIKI ADVICES TODAY WHICH REPORT THE DISEMBARKATION OF ITALIAN SOLDIERS AT THAT PORT NOW IN PROGRESS. German troops are employed on the Macedonian front, and actual war between Germany and Italy, of which there has so far been no formal declaration, now seems probable.

The Macedonian campaign itself does not yet seem to have developed an engagement of first magnitude, but there is pronounced activity along the 150-mile front with successes claimed by each side at various points.

In Entente quarters there is said to be no apprehension felt that the plans of General Sarrail, the Entente commander, will be interfered with by the German and Bulgarian attacks on the allied flanks.

Greece, however, is reported to be disquieted over the advances of the Bulgarians toward Kavala, the Greek seaport east of the Allied front, and southward movements of the Bulgarians on the other flank which resulted in the occupation of Florina.

In the Verdun region the Germans who again lost the village of Fleury, northeast of the citadel, in fighting late last week, are making determined efforts to regain the place.

Last night they drove against the village with strong forces, using flaming liquid to aid their attack, but according to today's Paris bulletin, the French fire effectively stopped the assault.

Along the Somme front in northern France the artillery battle is raging violently.

No infantry actions are reported by Paris, however, although a German counter attack apparently is in preparation following the capture by the French of a strongly fortified wood between Guillemont and Maurepas, announced last night.

CARPATIAN FIGHTING PRODUCTIVE OF RESULTS

FIGHTING ON THE EASTERN FRONT HAS BEEN CHIEFLY PRODUCTIVE OF DECISIVE RESULTS IN THE CARPATIANS AND IN THE REGION BETWEEN KOVEL AND PINSK.

In the latter the Russians report further gains at the point of the lower Stokhod near Rudka Chersische, about 40 miles northeast of Kovel, where they broke through the Teutonic lines last week and captured Tobol.

Russian attacks here and around Lake Nobel, in this region, are considered in some quarters as not so much directly connected with the operations for the taking of Kovel as intended to menace the Germans at Pinsk, 30 miles northeast of Lake Nobel, where a salient projects into the Russian lines.

Further progress for the Russians in their Carpathian campaign, where they are moving forward toward Hungary, is claimed by Petrograd. The new gain is in the easternmost pass south from Kut.

The Italians, after having made important gains east of Gorizia and on the Carso plateau, to the southwest, have suspended their attacks and are consolidating the positions taken.

Heads of Roads Continue to Hold Conferences.

MAY OFFER NEW PROPOSAL

President in Telegram to Head of Manufacturers' Association Again Makes Known His Stand.—Conferences of Managers and Presidents With Chief Executive to Continue While Labor Leaders Mark Time.

Washington, Aug. 21.—Development may be expected in a few days in the conferences of the president with the ranking officials of the railroads and leaders of their employes, parties to the controversy which threatens a nation-wide strike.

While the negotiations took no actual forward step, the president replied indirectly to contentions of the road officials that the principle of arbitration would be endangered by his plan for putting the eight hour basic day into effect while a commission investigates its practicability and passes upon other points at issue. In a telegram made public at the White House the president declared he held firmly to arbitration as a principle, and that his plan strengthened rather than weakened it. He also said that some means must be found to prevent the existing situation from ever arising again.

The road officials, who have tentatively refused to accept Mr. Wilson's proposal continued conferences among themselves. The labor leaders, who already have approved the proposal, marked time awaiting definite decision from the employers.

The president's telegram defending his plan was in reply to an appeal from George Pope, president of the National Association of Manufacturers, urging that the principle of arbitration be preserved in the strike negotiations.

The president replied: "Allow me to acknowledge receipt of your telegram of Aug. 18 and to say in reply that I hold to the principle of arbitration with as clear a conviction and as firm a purpose as any, but that unfortunately there is no means now in existence by which arbitration can be secured. Existing means have been tried and have failed. The situation must never be allowed to rise again, but it has arisen. Some means must be found to prevent its recurrence, but no means can be found off-hand or in a hurry or in season to meet the present national emergency. What I am proposing does not weaken or discredit the principles of arbitration. It strengthens it, rather. It proposes that nothing be conceded except the eight hour day, to which the economic movement of the times seems to point, and the immediate creation of an agency for determining all the arbitrable elements in this case in the light, not of predictions or forecasts, but of established and ascertained facts. This is the first stage of the direct road to the discovery of the best permanent basis for arbitration when other means than those now available are supplied."

There were no outward developments pending arrival of the addi-

ditional railroad executives to whom the president sent invitations. Representatives of both sides are prepared to remain here until the final word is spoken and a strike is declared or averted.

It is thought probable that there would be no further general White House conferences until Tuesday. Although the railroad executives continue to maintain their position in opposition to the president's plan and in favor of arbitration, administration officials express hope that ultimately they would decide to negotiate on the basis proposed by Mr. Wilson.

It was understood that a counter proposal was under consideration by the railroad executives, but that it had not yet reached a definite stage. It was said to include arbitration of at least some of the points at issue, with the granting of others. In the meantime telegrams urging the president to insist on arbitration arrived in large numbers at the White House.

COSTS MORE TO RAISE YOUNGSTERS

(Associated Press Cable.) London, Aug. 21.—It is estimated that the all-around expenditure on a baby born this year is probably from $100 to $125 higher than in 1914.

Food alone adds about $15 to the year's cost of the war-baby. Milk has gone up four cents a quart and it is said that the average baby consumes from 400 to 450 pints a year. Baby foods are up about ten per cent. Feeding bottles cost a third more, and the methylated spirit for heating the night's feed has advanced from ten cents to 25 cents a pint.

Baby garments cost more also. Everything made of wool has risen 33 per cent in price; all cotton and wool mixture materials and garments are 25 per cent higher, the wholly cotton ones, owing to the rise in raw materials and labor, must be paid for at the rate of about fifteen per cent more.

Even a baby's bath costs one third more; soap is a third dearer, the bath thermometer is up about 25 per cent, toilet powder—chiefly because of the rise in the price of the boric acid it contains—is 100 per cent dearer.

Nearly all medicines costs much more.

Perambulators are about one-fourth dearer. What formerly was sold for $15 is now $20 and so on. A cot that could be bought before the war for $5 is now $7.50; the fleecy wool mattress, baby's basket and baby's high chair are all up proportionately.

Nurse's wages have advanced $5 or more and her keep is costing at least one-third more—an increase of $50 or more a year.

172,000,000,000 U. S. POSTAGE STAMPS

(By Associated Press Dispatch.) Washington, Aug. 21.—Approximately 172,000,000,000 postage stamps have been issued by the United States since they were first placed on sale at New York, July 1, 1847. Issuance passed the billion a-year mark in 1882, the two-billion mark in 1890, the three billion mark in 1896, the four billion mark in 1901, the five billion mark in 1902, the six, seven, eight, nine and ten billion marks in 1906, 1907, 1909, 1910, 1911 respectively, and the eleven billion mark in 1914. Last year the exact number of ordinary postage stamps issued by the United States was 11,226,386,415. Stamped envelopes and wrappers issued numbered 1,793,764,296.

DENIES RUMOR OF RETIREMENT

(Associated Press Cable.)

Tokio, Aug. 21.—The secretary of the Japanese cabinet has issued an official statement denying an insistent report in the Japanese press that Premier Okuma would retire. The statement allows it to be understood that the opposition groups in the Diet were responsible for the reports.

The idea advanced was that Premier Okuma has long felt that it was time for him to withdraw and that the successful negotiating of an alliance with Russia offered a favorable moment for retirement as it represented a crowning act of statesmanship.

The opposition press suggested that the new cabinet would be a coalition ministry containing both Marshal Prince Terauchi, the governor-general of Korea and Baron Takaaki Kato, ex-minister of foreign affairs, or it would be a cabinet headed by either one of these statesmen.

Premier Okuma is receiving congratulations from all sides on his elevation to the rank of Marquis. The immediate occasion of that honor was the conclusion of the alliance with Russia but it has to do very largely with his distinguished services rendered to the Empire during the war with Germany.

Promotion to the rank of Marquis gives Premier Okuma a seat in the House of Peers.

"Of all the veteran statesmen," says the Japan Times, "who were survivors from the galaxy of the Meiji pillars of state, none has waited so long for a full opportunity to test his statesmanship as Count, now Marquis, Okuma. Nor has it been the lot of any other to experience so much pressure of arduous work in ripe old age as he."

MANY BAREFOOT BOYS

(Associated Press Cable.)

Berlin, Aug. 21.—The barefoot boy is coming back into his own as a result of the war and its increasing scarcity of leather. Various reports have come of the removal of prohibitions against attending school barefoot, and the city council of Munich has now removed the ban against shoeless youngsters in streets cars. The public is requested to make room for barefoot children inside the car, so far as possible, so that they may not be trodden on while standing on the platform.

MORE ECONOMY

(Associated Press Cable.)

Kiel, Aug. 21.—The cry of economy has now reached the German navy, as indicated by an order just issued by the Kaiser which abolishes the full dress uniform of officers. Henceforth accordingly, German naval officers will make a much less "stunning" impression on gala occasions. The gold embroidery on the collar and down the legs of the trousers is a thing of the past, and with it goes two-pointed hats.

OHIO WELCOMES YOU

EXPENSIVE TRIP

(Associated Press Cable.)

Berlin, Aug. 21.—One of the most expensive motorboat trips on record is reported from the Jungfersee, a lake west of Berlin. Despite the prohibition against the use of such craft under a regulation adopted by the Federal Council last August, a party of six essayed a short trip. A police boat noted and overhauled them after a short chase. The motorboat, valued at 13,000 marks, was declared forfeited to the state.

NO WHEAT CARS

(By American Press)

Portland, Ore., Aug. 21.—The three Northwestern states, Oregon, Washington and Idaho will have 50,000,000 bushels of wheat to move to the Atlantic seaboard within the next six months and practically no cars are in sight in which to move it, according to a survey completed by local railroad men. The railroads will be called on to provide about 38,500 cars, the average capacity of a car being 1,300 bushels.

SENATE APPROVES

(By American Press)

Washington, Aug. 21.—The workmen's compensation bill to provide uniform compensation for government employees when disabled, and adequate benefits for their families in case of death, was passed by the senate. Federal employees would receive two thirds wages throughout disability, and provision is made for adequate medical attendance of injured to effect economy in preventing protracted compensation payments.

FIVE MINES STOP

(By American Press)

Nelsonville, Aug. 21.—Fifteen hundred miners employed in the five mines of the New York Coal company in this vicinity are out on strike, owing to refusal of the company to discharge Superintendent John Murphy, against whom the mine committee has filed a number of charges. After an investigation by state mining officials it is said the miners were ordered back to work but refused.

The Proportionate Effect

Those people who think they see, in the numerous successes of the Entente allies on all fronts, especially those on the west front in northern France and at Verdun, evidence of an early ending of the war should not permit themselves to become too optimistic.

The central powers are still far from defeat. Their magnificent armies are still able to combat their opponents every inch of the advance and to counter attack with effect.

So far as the western fronts are concerned the successes gained by the Entente allies are "nibbling" rather than sweeping and decisive.

Some positions have been captured from the Teutons but the cost has been frightful and the captured positions are not such as give the victors any marked advantage—such an advantage as might properly be considered as exerting any considerable effect on the ultimate outcome.

The territory acquired in the east consists largely, if not entirely, of territory taken first by the Teutonic allies and is not a first hand capture of territory originally German or Austrian possession.

The main feature to be observed, in forming an opinion as to the end of the war, is that Germany and Austria, especially the former, are yet fighting on the territory of the enemy. Their empires are still uninvaded and their armies are still intact.

Wars do not end, generally, with defeat to nations in the position that Germany and Austria occupy at this time.

Of course, the Entente powers have won successes in this summer's fighting—wonderful successes—but not such successes as promise the end of the war, except remotely.

Rather these successes indicate that the Entente allies are at last in action and verifying Kitchener's prediction, the war has begun.

In comparison to other wars, the successes gained are enormous and would have been decisive of other wars but we must remember the magnitude of this war and credit that importance to the victories won which is in proportion to the present conflict in order to gauge properly the effect.

A Charter Government

The belief that Washington needs a charter government—needs to have installed a simple, direct and efficient system of transacting the public business, is growing every day.

There are few people now, comparatively speaking, who would hesitate to discard the present top-heavy, costly and inefficient plan and adopt a plan which will place every dollar of the public money where it will get a dollar's worth of service or property.

Washington, like every other city, large and small, in Ohio, is suffering today from too much politics, too much lost motion in reaching out for results.

The present tax rate limit laws make imperative the elimination of the extravagant and useless in public affairs, if the revenues prove equal to the demand for necessities.

Cities must economize if they are to keep abreast of the demand for improvements and live within the income which the law now limits.

Time was when all expenses could be met by simply increasing the amount of tax receipts but we can't do that now. The laws, very properly, compel cities to commence at the other end and cut off useless expense. Spend the public money judiciously and abolish all useless offices.

That's not old fashioned politics, but it's business and, in smaller cities like Washington, business men are compelled to force business principles into public affairs.

The time is right here, right now, to inaugurate a movement for the adoption of a charter. It will be a big step forward for the city.

Pitching Horse Shoes

Pitching horseshoes is one of the old timers. In this rapidly developing country of ours pitching horses shoes has long been crowded out of popular favor save only in the out of the way villages and cross road settlements.

When the blacksmith shops were numerous throughout the rural sections the farmer boys and farmer men too would congregate while waiting their turn with the smithy. Story-telling and trading experiences together with discussion of the latest neighborhood gossip did not suffice to pass the time.

Horses shoes were convenient and plentiful and the game grew in popularity.

With the coming of the larger settlements the popularity of the game began to wane and during the last decade, with the coming of the automobile the rural blacksmith has not had so many callers nor so many to wait about the shop while away the time. The game of "horse shoes" seemed doomed to become a lost art entirely but somebody, somewhere began a revival and it has swept the state.

Now no county fair, no reunion, no picnic and no other public gathering is complete without a horseshoe pitching contest.

It's a fine, clean, generous, neighborly sport and the individual who revived its waning popularity is entitled to the thanks of an amusement surfeited people.

Poetry For Today

THE EASE OF BITTERNESS.

It is so easy to be mean.
 To say the sharp and bitter thing,
 Too quickly is the opening seen
 To launch a dart and leave a sting
 That one must ever check his thought
 And fear the harm that may be wrought.

I know not why it should be true
 That bitter speech is quickly framed
 While praise of all the good we view
 Is slow to come and often lamed.
 We stumble when we're kind, and yet

We race the words that we regret.
 I would that sweet words had the wings
 By which the speech of hate is borne,
 And envy's shafts were leaden things.
 There would be fewer hearts forlorn.
 But since men have not made them so
 With bitter speech we should be slow.

DRAMATIC INCIDENTS.

How Sothorn Learned of the Deaths of Booth and McCullough.

It has been my fortune to encounter two rather startling coincidents in connection with the death of Mr. Booth and John McCullough.

The night that Edwin Booth died I was taking supper in the dining room of the Players' club with three friends. There were no other men in the club. It was about 2 o'clock in the morning. We, of course, knew that Mr. Booth was ill, but his death was not expected immediately. While we were talking over our meal suddenly every light in the club went out. My companions began to call for the waiter and protest loudly. From the darkness right at our elbows a voice, that of Mr. McGonegal, the manager of the club, said: "Hush! Mr. Booth is dead."

The day Mr. McCullough died I happened to be studying the play of "Cymbeline." I was reading the song in act 4—

Fear no more the heat o' the sun
 Nor the furious winter's rages.
 Thou thy worldly task hast done,
 Home art gone and ta'en thy wages.
 Golden lads and girls all must
 As chimney sweepers come to dust.

When a friend of mine opened the door of my room in the Sturtevant House and said, "McCullough's dead."—From "My Remembrances," by E. H. Sothorn in Scribner's Magazine.

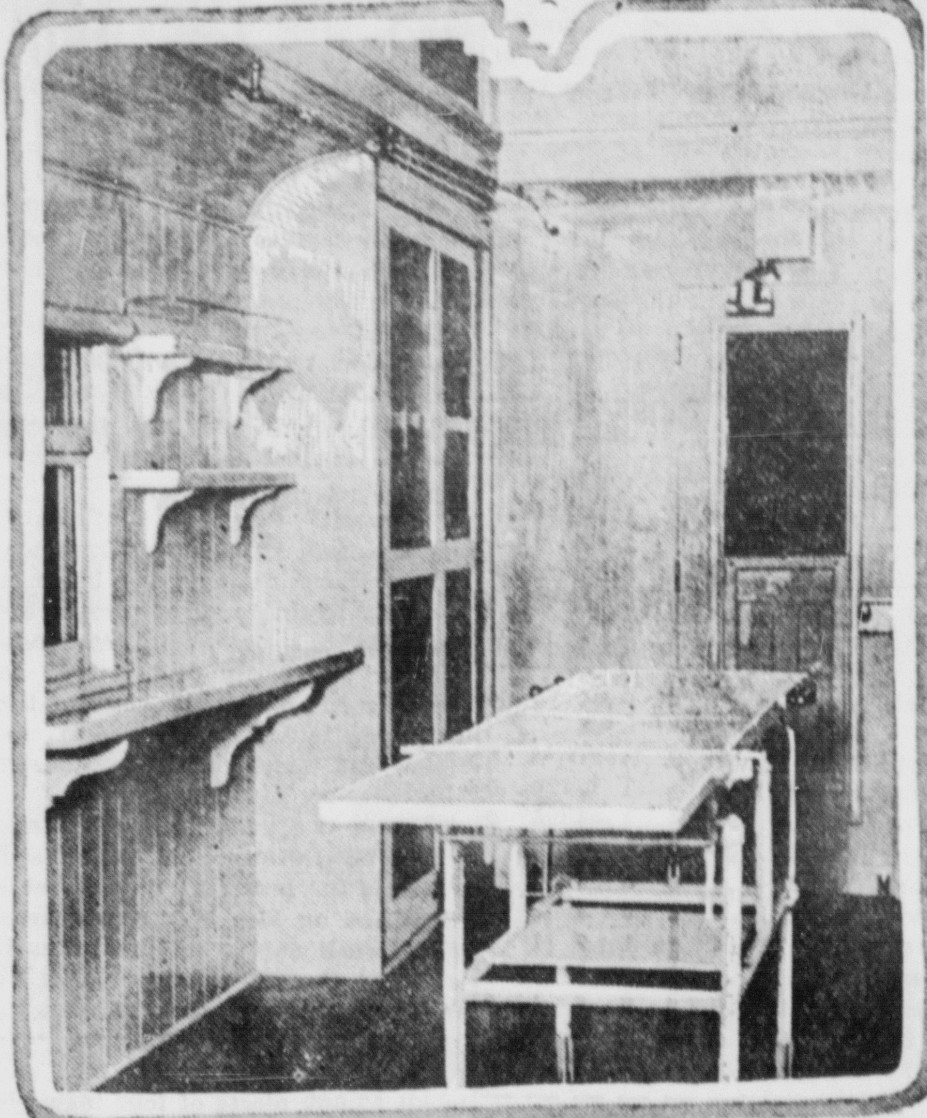

Let this be your constant maxim.
 That no man can be good enough to neglect the rules of prudence.—Fielding.

SUNDAY A FARMER

Ma, Too, Dresses the Part on Their Hood River (Ore.) Ranch.

TAKE KEEN INTEREST IN WORK

Evangelist, Resting After a Strenuous Year, Says the Pine Odor Laden Air Renews His Strength—In Fields Nearly All the Time.

Hood River, Ore.—Billy Sunday, whose evangelistic sermons have been heard by at least a million people in the course of a year, never wears the conventional frock of the minister, but just now may be seen at almost any hour between dawn and twilight, dressed in brogans, overalls, khaki jacket and slouch hat, engaged in the labor of a rancher at the Hood river valley country home of the Sundays in the Odell district. It is "Farmer" Sunday now, if you please, and Mr. Sunday always dresses the part.

Billy Sunday and "Ma," his faithful coworker, with two of their children, Billy Junior and Paul, recently arrived for a vacation sojourn on the ranch. Billy Sunday, whose first fame came from his aggressive baseball playing as

A member of the Chicago White Sox team in the late eighties, for the time being has apparently forgotten baseball and evangelism. The caller at the Odell place on a summer day will find Mr. and Mrs. Sunday out in the open air weeding flowers, picking berries, helping with the hay, opening rills of irrigation ditches, watching the antics of pigs or ponies or engaged in some sort of open air game.

When the writer, accompanying the Rev. W. B. Young, pastor of the Asbury Methodist church of this city, and his wife, visited the Sunday home Mrs. Sunday was picking red raspberries and currants, which were being made into delicious sun cooked preserves and jellies.

"Our jellies," Mrs. Sunday said, "are just as good as the choicest confections."

Sunday was soon located, and he told his visitors while he kept hoeing that the pine odor laden air renews his strength.

The way to wealth is as plain as the way to market; it depends chiefly on two words—industry and frugality.—Franklin.

—The— Scrap Book

Ruined His Climax.

It used to be the annual custom of Mr. Ledger, proprietor of the London Era and a clever journalist, to entertain the theatrical celebrities of the day at dinner and to commemorate the occasion by some Lucullan freak.

He once had eighty strawberry plants carefully nurtured in pots so that at dessert he might say to his guests, each opposite a blooming strawberry plant, "Now, my dear friends, gather your own fruit."

The dinner had progressed finely to the dessert when the service seemed slow. Ledger cried to his man:

"Come, come! The dessert!"

"In a minute, sir," was the reply. "They've nearly finished picking the strawberries!"—London Globe.

The Right Road.

The right road is a long road, And at times it may be rough; But don't leave it for the wrong road That is paved with sham and bluff. And don't mistake the smiling Of the men who travel there; Or the gold that they are piling, As a sign that all is fair.

For beneath the jewels shining And the pleasures they possess, And behind their hours of winning, There is fearful loneliness. Though the road that they are taking Seems a splendid thoroughfare, Hearts for honest joys are aching, And the lives they live are bare.

There are rough spots in the right road, There are dangers grim to face; And it's often not a bright road, But it's free from all disgrace. And it's lined with friends to love you, And its joys are of the best; And when stars come out above you, With a conscience clear you rest.

He Quit His Kidding.

"I've quit kidding," said a business man. "That kind of chickens come home to roost and can't be driven away again, I've found to my sorrow."

"The way of it was this: A few days ago I took my wife to a well known restaurant for luncheon. We got a table next to that occupied by a pair of fellows whom I have 'kidded' unmercifully in times past. In a moment of temporary mental aberration I introduced these fellows, both good friends of mine, who can take a joke and never wince under it, however severe it may be on them, to my wife. "The quicker witted of the two, seeing an opportunity to get square with me for the last joke I played on him, said without a smile: 'I am delighted to make your acquaintance, Mrs. B.—The last woman Mr. B— introduced as his wife had red hair.'

"When I tell you that my wife has black hair you can readily understand the position this placed me in. As a matter of fact I am not out of it yet, as she more than half believed that I had met these fellows with a red headed woman whom I passed off as my wife. I don't know whether I will ever be able to convince her that they were 'kidding,' so I've stopped it."—Philadelphia Press.

Family Pride.

The following story is told of the mayor of a western city:

A small boy who afterward proved to be a nephew of one of the mayor's stenographers was wandering about in the city hall when one of the officials there happened upon him.

"Well, sonny," inquired the man genially, "for whom are you looking?"

"For my Aunt Kate."

"Can't you find her?"

"I can't seem to."

No Sale.

Notwithstanding the fact that the ventures of native students into the labyrinths of English are sometimes adventures indeed, nevertheless it is the mistakes of the Americans who attempt to express themselves prematurely in other languages which most appeal to our risibles. The Spanish word for sons is "hijos," for figs "higos." One can therefore easily understand how the following conversation might easily have taken place. A lady went to a grocery store to buy figs. The conversation actually was as follows:

"Have you any sons?"

"Yes," replied the storekeeper pleasantly.

"White ones?"

To this the man replied in the affirmative.

"Very well, I will take one pound, if you please," said the lady.

The storekeeper is said to have replied that they were not for sale, and certainly not by the pound.—World Outlook.

Where the Splinter Came From.

Certain members of the house party were describing the accidents that had happened to them during their various careers. Adventures by flood, fire and field had all been well received, and De Sappley, eager for fame, thought it was his turn.

"D'you know," he said, "I had a very painful experience once. I ran a con-founded splinter quite half an inch long right under my finger nail, don't you know?"

"Really, Mr. de Sappley," said a maiden of the party. "How did you do it?"

"Well," he said, "it happened like this." As he spoke he unconsciously raised his hand and scratched his forehead.

"Oh, I see," she interrupted sweetly. "How very careless of you!"

PLOWS UP BOX OF COINS.

A Thousand Dollars in Silver Found on Louisiana Farm.

Ruston, La.—While John W. Skinner, a farmer of this section, was plowing his field the blade of his plow struck an old iron box, which burst open, revealing more than $1,000 in old silver coin.

The money was brought here and deposited in a bank. It is mostly of foreign mintage, and some of the pieces are 139 years old. The identity of the original owner could not be traced.

Advice.

"There's one sure way to get along in this world."

"What's that?"

"Quit fretting about the things some one else has and keep hustling for the things that so far no one has and you can get for yourself if you're first on the job."—Detroit Free Press.

ATHLETICS TAKE FIRST OF SERIES

Base Rnning Riot Ensues in the Eighth Inning of First Wilmington-Washington Game and Defeat Turns to Victory.

HITTING LIVELY PLAYING STEADY

Umpiring Satisfactory to Both Sides—Heironimus Gets a Homer—Jones Goes to Pieces—Fetherlin Does Himself Proud.

While the stands rocked to the uproar of the largest and loudest throng of fans that has crowded into Athletic Park this season, the Athletics, as though making up for lost time, waded into the mighty Heironimus with a vengeance in the eighth inning of the Clinton-Athletic game here Sunday afternoon, and before the riot ceased six Athletics had circled the bases and crossed the pan.

The timely streak had the effect of turning what had seemed a defeat for the locals into an overwhelming victory, and converting an otherwise close and steady ball game into an old time slug fest.

The final score was 6 to 2. Wilmington tallied one in the fifth on Heironimus' home run into left, and another in the seventh on a fumble by Jones at second. Washington got all her scores in the eighth, a ten minute hitting streak following a neat single drive by Fetherlin into center.

From a batting standpoint, the game was spectacular and one of the most exciting seen here in many days. As to fielding generally, it lacked the sensational element but on both sides was consistent throughout.

Nip Jones, at second for Washington, was off his feed entirely after the first few innings. He was relieved in the eighth at the bat by Art Grandle, and his place at second was taken by Adams, who in turn was succeeded in the sub-garden by Grandle.

The umpiring of Thompson, of Dayton, was a pleasing feature and about the most satisfactory seen in a Washington-Wilmington game in several seasons. Manager Powell of the Clintons warmly praised the ump's square and businesslike performance and both Wilmington and Washington fans agreed.

Notwithstanding the flare-up in the eighth, the pitching of Heironamus may be considered as very good, and he did not lose his head even then. The Clintons played well behind him all during the game, and indications are that there will be some lively struggles before the five-game series, of which Sunday's game was the first, is over. Wilmington's most conspicuous weakness Sunday was the lack of Stan Arthur.

Fetherlin, just back from Eastern league diamonds, pitched and hit with equal facility and won his way to the hearts of the local fans.

MUST DIM LIGHTS OR FACE MAYOR

Repeated complaints having been made of brilliant headlights on automobiles in this city, with no attempt to dim same, and Mayor Oster has issued notice that brilliant headlights must be dimmed when approaching another car, or the ordinance prohibiting brilliant lights will be called into action.

Many auto drivers have made complaint of the nuisance, and stated that accidents have nearly resulted upon a number of occasions because of the blinding lights of approaching machines.

Not only have auto drivers complained, but drivers of other vehicles have joined in the effort to bring about enforcement of the ordinance requiring dimmed headlights.

WASHINGTON MAN HAS BIG CONTRACT IN ROSS COUNTY

C. C. Mann of this city, has a contract for laying some 57,000 pieces of drain tile on one farm in Ross county; the draining enterprise is probably the most expensive ever undertaken on one farm in Ross county.

The Scioto Gazette interestingly describes the project in the following article:

"Charles F. Coppel, of South Paint street, who a little over a year ago purchased the Higby glade lands in Franklin township, is at present engaged in one of the biggest engineering feats ever attempted in Ross county. Miles and miles of tile are being laid in an effort to reclaim land which for over a quarter of a century lay dormant.

"About two hundred acres of land on the northwest section of the farm which is the lowest portion, is being tiled, and an idea of the immensity of the work may be obtained when it is stated that in a rear field of 54 acres thirty-nine rows of tiling were placed. The distance between the rows varies from 20 to 45 feet, and in all 57,000 pieces of four inch tile were laid to the main sewer, which has a ten-inch outlet. There are from 800 to 1000 pieces of tile in each row. This section of the farm had been in wheat last year, and parts of it were so wet that a team could not pass through it, and it had to be abandoned. This year it has already been plowed and the land with the cultivation given it, promises to be as good as any in that neighborhood. The front field is now being ditched and it will take from five to six weeks more to complete the work. In this field there is a line of sewer a half mile long, and before the earth was placed over the tile it was tested by hauling barrels of water. There was a perfect flow.

"At first Mr. Coppel started in on the project of maxing his own tile of cement, but the workmen engaged at this work could not keep up with the ditcher and as a result 16 cars of red clay tile have been purchased and hauled to the farm. In all about 21 cars of tile will have been placed in the two front fields. Last year, before corn planting time, 20,000 concrete tile were placed in a rear field which is not included in the present work.

"C. C. Mann of Washington C. H., who has the ditching contract, uses a Buckeye Traction Ditcher and the ditches are made from 16 inches to three feet deep. The contractor is emphatic in saying that it is by far the biggest work he ever undertook, and hundreds of persons who drive by the farm daily are interested and stop to look. It is certainly a wonderful effort to reclaim land and Ohio State Engineers, who laid off a part of the ground, are enthusiastic about it. They say it is the greatest work they ever saw, and all admire Mr. Coppel's wonderful pluck.

"Since the land was purchased 2 houses were built on the place for tenants, and contracts are about to be let for a third. All of this work is costing a world of money, but Mr. Coppel feels sure that the outlay will be justified."

ROAD WORKING IS PROGRESSING

Not since the highways in Fayette county were constructed back in the seventies, has road working been conducted on the mammoth scale as at the present time, and scores of car loads of crushed stone are being applied to the roads each week in addition to thousands of loads of gravel.

The work is being conducted on a huge scale throughout the county, and it is expected that when the work is finished within the next few weeks that tens of miles of road will have received a liberal application of stone and gravel.

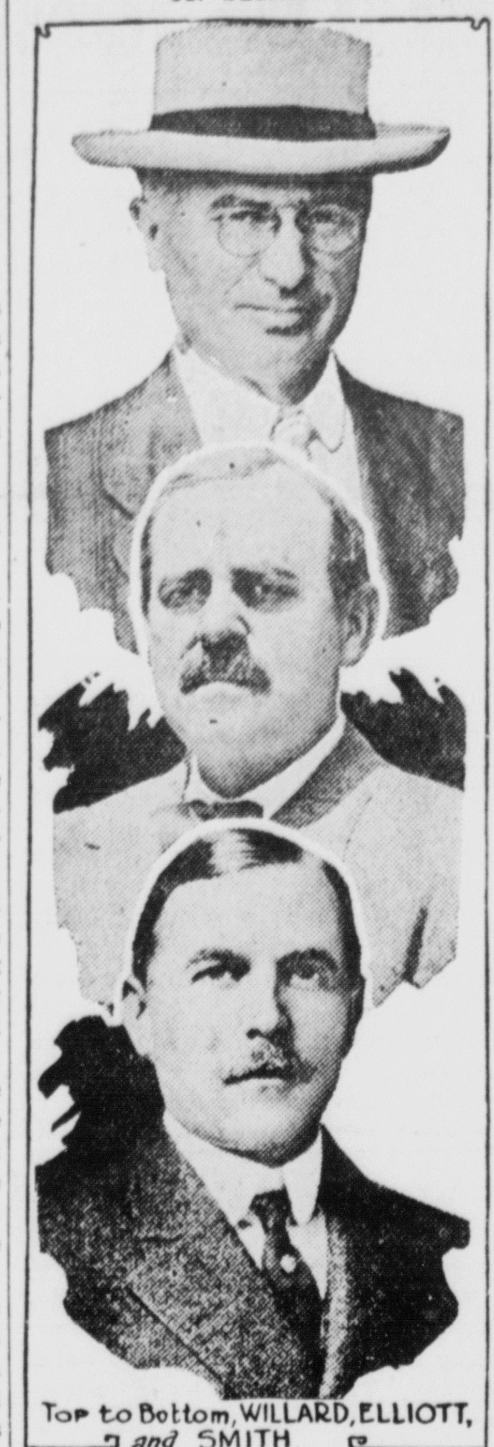

Part of the work is being paid for out of the two mill road levy, and the remainder out of the regular road fund.

GLENDON BRIDGE TO BE REPAIRED

The only overhead railroad crossing in the county is to undergo repairs. The crossing is located at Glendon, or Rattlesnake, where the roadway crosses over both the Pennsylvania and B. & O. tracks, and the structure has become somewhat dilapidated.

The Commissioners are in receipt of word from both railroads stating they will give their immediate attention to repairing the bridge.

RAILROAD HEADS CALLED TO CONSULT PRESIDENT ON STRIKE OF 400,000

Top to Bottom, WILLARD, ELLIOTT, and SMITH

The railroad presidents summoned to the White House by President Wilson in his endeavor to find a basis of settlement of the troubles between the railroads and their operating employees were the following: Daniel Willard of the Baltimore & Ohio; Samuel Rea of the Pennsylvania; A. H. Smith, of the New York Central; F. D. Underwood of the Erie; Howard Elliott of the New Haven; Hale Holden of the Burlington; W. J. Harahan of the Seaboard Air Line; L. F. Loree of the Delaware and Hudson; B. F. Bush of the Missouri Pacific; President Calvin of the Union Pacific; President Sproule of the Southern Pacific; President Stevens of the Chesapeake & Ohio; S. M. Felton of the Chicago Great Western; Fairfax Harrison of the Southern; E. P. Ripley of the Santa Fe, President Aishton of the Chicago and Northwestern and A. J. Earling of the St. Paul.

WORK ON HIGHWAYS IS MOVING FORWARD

Contractors Mark & Van Gundy expect to complete the paving of the Bloomingburg and Midway pike from the Willis Hill to the state road, this week, so that within another two weeks the road should be open to traffic.

The work has been greatly retarded because teams and laborers were so difficult to get.

On the Leesburg pike where the same contractors are building two miles of tar-bound macadam pike, a half mile of stone is in position, four-fifth of the grading and all sewers completed, and the first tar will be applied sometime this week.

On the Sabina pike the work of building sewers preparatory to opening up the building of more than seven miles of road, is under way.

SUGAR GROVE W. C. T. U.
The Sugar Grove W. C. T. U. will meet at the home of Mrs. Alma King on the Greenfield pike, Wednesday afternoon, August 23. Election of officers. Every member urged to be present.

EXCESSIVE HEAT HAS JUST MADE UP FOR COOL SPRING

Sunday Said to Be Hottest Day of Season, With Night a Scorch—Local Weather Man Says Cooler Weather Must Come or Normal Amount of Heat Will Be Used and Frost Will Be Early.

The atmospheric temperature without exposure, Sunday afternoon as shown by the government thermometer, was 98 degrees, second hottest day of the season, although in the sunshine the temperature reached 15 to 20 degrees higher. The day was the hottest or second hottest of the season.

Not only was the day a scorch, but Sunday night was probably the hottest of the season until the torridity was somewhat lessened by the storms nearby between midnight and one o'clock.

Regardless of the excessive heat of the past four or five weeks, the excess heat had not made up for the cool weather of the spring until Saturday, when the normal amount of heat for the spring and summer months up to that time was recorded.

In a given number of months the total average heat is so much, and this point was not reached until Saturday, and Monday the balance was beginning to swing the other way, and the mercury was about 10 degrees above normal.

In order to ward off frost it is necessary from now on that the heat not become too great, or according to a local man who makes the matter a study and who keeps all weather records for the government, the amount of heat for the summer will have been used up and cool weather and frost will come earlier than if the weather moderates from now onward.

BAINBRIDGE MAN SAVED FROM DEATH

While returning home Sunday night Elton Underwood discovered a man lying in the middle of the D. T. & I. tracks near the old passenger station. The man was sound asleep.

Summoning assistance Underwood aroused the man and had hardly gotten him off the track when a freight train passed over the track. The man refused to divulge his name, stated he had not been drinking, and appeared in a half-dazed condition.

Timely discovery of the sleeping man probably saved him from being ground to pieces under the train.

In Social Circles

A quiet wedding of interest to a wide circle of friends took place Saturday afternoon when Mr. McKinley Anderson was united in marriage to Miss Lela Nelson, the very attractive young daughter of Mr. John Nelson of Manara. Justice of the Peace R. J. Nelson performed the ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. Anderson went at once to their home on S. Main street which was tastefully furnished and in readiness for them.

Mr. Anderson is a well known business man of this county. For some years he operated a grocery at Waterloo and about a month ago came to this city and purchased the Jacob's grocery on the corner of South Main and Elm streets which has since been under his management.

Both young people have the best wishes of a host of friends in town and county.

Mrs. H. G. Coffman entertained Saturday afternoon with an extremely pretty tea, honoring Miss Lulu Clark, of Dayton, the guest of Mrs. Daniel H. Van Winkle.

It was a debutante tea, with a most attractive coterie of nearly half a hundred college girls and representatives of the younger society set.

The girls made a charming picture in summery gowns and picture hats as they grouped around the tea table, artistic in its arrangement and having for its embellishment a lovely centerpiece of white asters and fern.

The honor guest looked very cunning in a modish white organdie and Mrs. Van Winkle, a charming hostess, wore a lingerie gown of white net.

A yellow and white color scheme was daintily carried out in the refectory of the tea room. Refreshing fruit punch was served from the buffet.

Assisting in the afternoon's hospitalities were Mrs. Daniel Van Winkle, Misses Grace Van Winkle, Geraldine Coffman, Lina Willis, Lillian Davis, Dorothy Rogers, Mary Tysor.

Guests from out of town were Mrs. Joseph H. Donnell, of Washington, D. C., Miss Charlotte Martin of Columbus, Miss Katharine Kelley of Xenia.

The following announcement from a Cleveland paper will be read with no small interest by the many friends of Mr. Ben C. Parrett, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Parrett, prominent residents of this city until their removal to Cleveland two years ago.

"Mr. and Mrs. William J. Flanagan, of 1241 East Eighty-third street, announce the engagement of their daughter, Pauline Jane, to Mr. Ben C. Parrett, of 1473 East 106th street.

The wedding is to take place in September.

Miss Florence Conner and Mr. Fred Conner entertained with a delightful little supper at the Conner homestead near Jeffersonville Sunday evening.

Their guests were Mr. and Mrs. Bennett King and daughter, Miss Florence, Mr. and Mrs. Howard McLean and son Russell, and Mr. Russell Townsley of Lancaster.

ALLEGED FORGER IS UNDER ARREST

Burton Acord, alias Burton Moore, against whom an affidavit was filed in this city, charging him with uttering two forged checks, totaling $45, was arrested in Chillicothe Saturday afternoon and brought to this city Saturday night by Chief Moore, who placed him in the county jail to await a hearing.

The arrest was made by Strawder McNeal and Deputy Sheriff Porter Haynes upon information furnished them from this city some two weeks ago. Acord was located at his home on Hirn street.

Acord was formerly in the employ of T. J. Junk of near Austin, and forged his name to two checks which were cashed by dealers in this city. The checks were drawn on the Frankfort Bank.

Acord also is suspected of passing several bad checks in Chillicothe.

FLYING CRICKETS HERE BY MILLIONS

Little brown crickets — flying crickets, if you please—are here by the millions, and during the past few nights local citizens have found them almost equal to the mosquito in causing annoyance, although so far as known the little rascals do not make it a practice to subsist off of the human family.

As the shades of night begin to fall the flying cricket comes forth, creeps into residences, places of business, flocks over the streets and sidewalks, and adds to the night noises with his incessant crickets song.

SUGAR CORN CROP IS SHORT THIS YEAR

The sugar corn crop is short this season, and a large percentage of the corn now being brought to the canning plants in this city is not perfectly filled. The pack this year may not exceed a half crop and it is believed to be the shortest crop since the industry was started in this city.

However, both plants are now running steadily and employing a large number of persons, and the work will continue for some little time yet.

SESSION'S END NOW IN SIGHT

Work of Congress Is Nearing Completion.

DEBATE REVENUE MEASURE

Recommendation of Bond Issue to Meet Emergency Expenses Will Be Accepted, House Leaders Say—Minor Measures Have Small Chance For Consideration Before Adjournment.

Washington, Aug. 21.—Congress' adjournment now waits only on the passage of the emergency revenue bill, repassage of the army appropriation bill with amendments to meet President Wilson's veto, completion of the general deficiency appropriation measure and final action on a few conference reports, including the government shipping bill. Senate leaders who have grown optimistic over the rapid progress of legislation within the last few days, said they would be ready to adjourn next Saturday if the house could be prevailed upon to accept the amended revenue bill without a fight. This does not seem likely, however, and because of some discussion that may arise over general deficiency appropriations, Congress probably will not be ready for the adjournment gavel before Sept. 1 or 2.

Fears of indefinite delay resulting from President Wilson's veto of the army appropriation bill because of its exemption from the military code of retired officers and men have almost entirely disappeared. The house will repass the bill under special rule with the articles of war which caused Representative Hays' objectionable amendment, eliminated. It will be rushed to the senate, where the plan is to reinsert the articles of war minus the Hays amendment. Unless present plans miscarry, the bill will then go to conference and Representative Hays, his friends declare, will then surrender. There is a possibility, however, that the articles of war will be thrown out in the senate on a point of order that they are not germane to an appropriation bill.

Today the senate began discussion of the revenue bill, designed to raise $250,000,000 annually through income, inheritance, munitions, liquor, corporation stock and miscellaneous taxes. Senator Simmons, chairman of the finance committee, opened debate on the measure and he has been assured by Republican leaders who propose to make the bill the target for vigorous political assault that they can finish their attack in four or five days at the most. Some time, however, will be taken by Democratic senators who oppose certain features of the bill.

The recommendation for a bond issue of $120,000,000 to meet expenses of the Mexican emergency, house leaders say, will be accepted, having originally been suggested by the ways and means committee.

Republican and Democratic leaders alike assert that odds and ends of legislation still pending will be entirely overlooked in the final drive for adjournment and that nothing can prevent congress getting away after the revenue and general deficiency bills are passed. They declare such things as corrupt practices legislation, woman suffrage and the treaty for the purchase of the Danish West Indies did not have the ghost of a chance for consideration unless unexpected developments should prolong the session.

TRAIL OF DEATH

(By American Press)
Waupaca, Wis., Aug. 21.—Jilted by a girl of 16 years, and with a mysterious letter from the Ohio girl to whom he was supposed to be betrothed, Bert H. Drew, 45 years old, a farmer living eight miles from here, was killed. When his career of death had ended, he had killed Elizabeth Luft, the girl who refused to marry him, her mother, Mrs. Adam Luft, had fired five shots at the girl's crippled brother, as he fled, and killed himself. Every shot which found a target brought death.

The letter, which apparently started the man on his death dealing rage, was from Miss Edna Dratt, of Akron, Ohio. He destroyed the letter before taking the rifle and seeking out the other girl in the strange tangle.

ONE HUNDRED SHOTS EXCHANGED

(By American Press)

Naco, Ariz., Aug. 21.—Over 100 shots were exchanged across the international line and about a mile west of here between patrols belonging to the colored militia troops from the District of Columbia and a party on the Mexican side. The militia say they halted some Mexicans who attempted to cross the line, and in answer to the challenge the Mexicans fired. In the fusillade that followed the only casualty was the wounding of one of the Mexicans who had tried to cross. He is now a prisoner in the camp of colored troops.

JUDGE LYNCH

(By American Press)

Gainesville, Fla., Aug. 21.—Two women and three men, all negroes, were taken from the jail at Newberry and hanged by a mob. Another negro was shot and killed by deputy sheriffs near Jonesville, Fla. All of the victims came to their deaths as the result of the killing of Constable S. G. Wynne and the shooting of Dr. L. G. Harris by Boisey Long, a negro. The lynched negroes were accused of aiding Long to escape.

Dispatches from Newberry said that the mob which lynched the negroes was composed of about 200 men, and that it worked quietly and rapidly.

ANNUAL SESSION OF CATHOLICS

Princes of the Church and Laymen Take Part.

New York, Aug. 20.—Three princes of the Roman Catholic church, the papal delegate to the United States, the papal nuncio to Brazil, scores of bishops and other dignitaries, several hundred priests and thousands of laymen participated here in the celebration of a solemn pontifical high mass at St. Patrick's Cathedral. The occasion was the formal opening of the fifteenth annual convention of the American Federation of Catholic Societies and the sixty-first annual convention of the National Federation of German Catholics.

Sceldom in the history of the church has there been so notable a gathering of ecclesiastics outside of Rome. It was estimated that more than 8,000 persons crowded into the cathedral, while twice as many more congregated outside to view the procession which preceded the mass.

American and papal flags were hung above the cathedral entrance with great streamers of yellow and white the papal colors, suspended from each arch inside. High above all the decoration hung the red hat of the late Cardinal McCloskey, suspended from the arched ceiling over the chancel.

BAR "SHOP" TALK

(By American Press)

Washington, Aug. 21.—Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo has made known that he will deliver no political talks on his forthcoming tour with the federal farm loan board. That tour is to extend across the continent and as soon as it became known that the secretary of the treasury and president's son-in-law would appear in various cities this campaign year invitations to make political speeches began to pour in on him.

Secretary McAdoo takes the position that this is to be a business trip, one that has to do with important public interests connected with the establishment of farm loan banks and the creation of twelve farm loan districts and that it would not be right to mix partisan politics with it.

ONE STRIKE AVERTED

(By American Press)

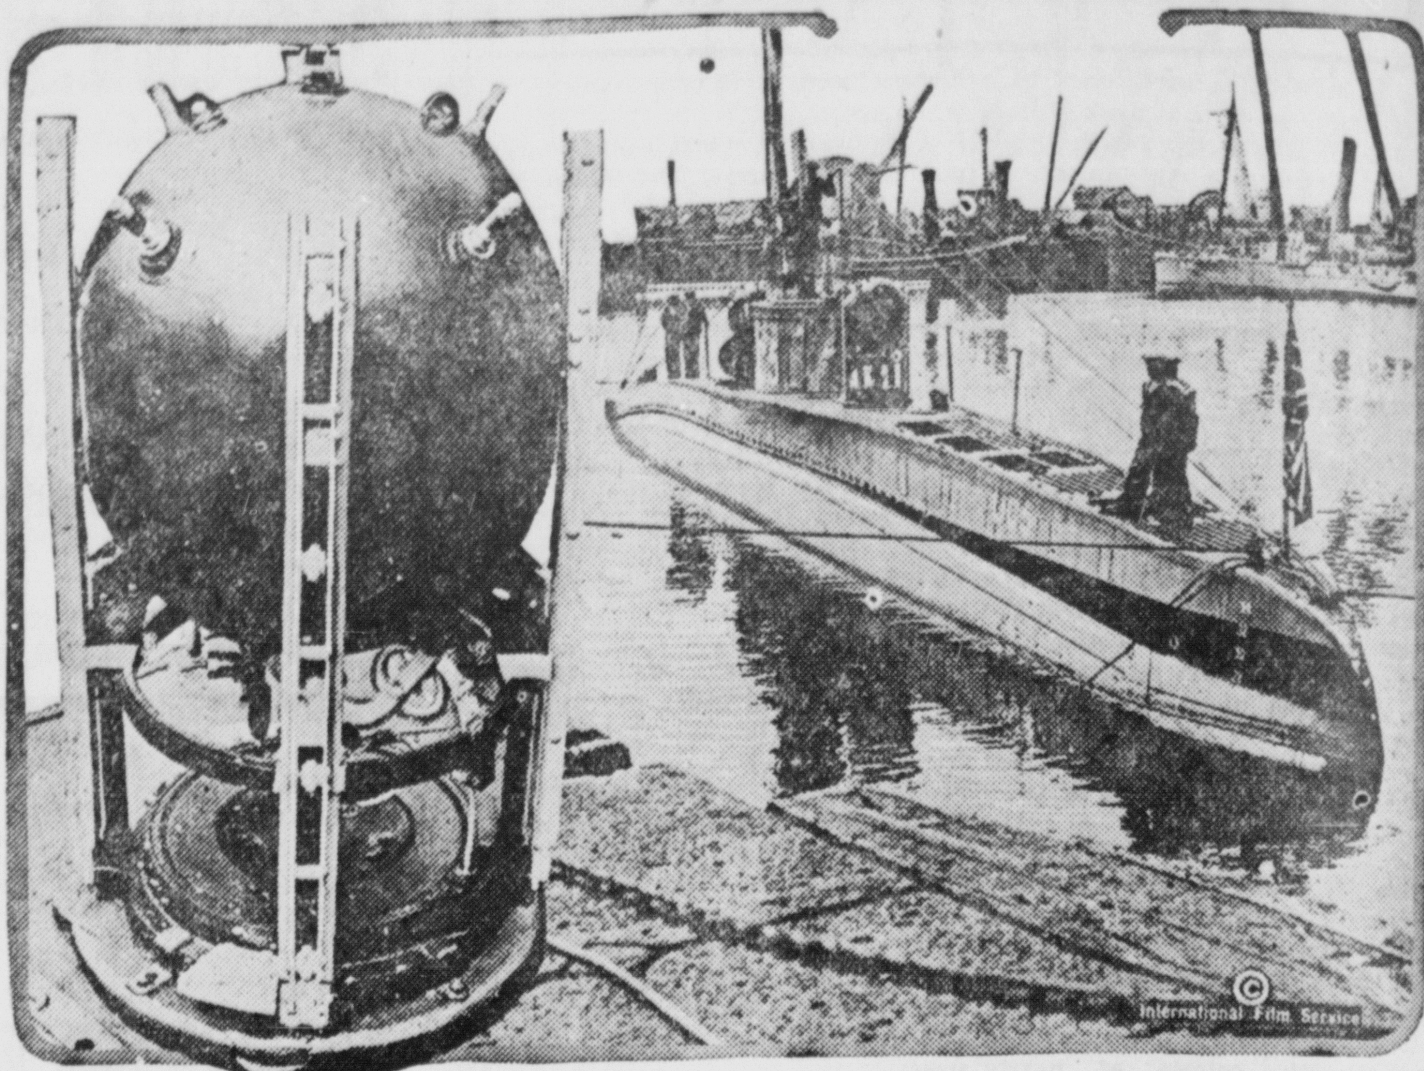

Kansas City, Aug. 21.—Threatened strike of the 35,000 coal miners of Missouri, Kansas, Arkansas and Oklahoma has been averted. Compromises made by both operators and miners in the negotiations for the two-year contract enabled the sub-committee of the general conference to reach a complete agreement.

INSPECTING U. S. CAMPS

Dr. Richard P. Strong of Harvard university, specialist on sanitation and tropical diseases, photographed on the sands near the American base camp at Colonia Dublan. Doctor Strong is looking over the sanitary conditions there and at other camps of the American troops in Mexico. When the great typhus plague swept Serbia last year it was Doctor Strong who was chosen to head the expedition sent out by the Red Cross and the Rockefeller foundation to stamp out the disease in that stricken country. To him is due the credit of having wiped out the plague.

GERMAN MINE-LAYING SUBMARINE CAPTURED

This German submarine, the U. C. 5, constructed as a mine-layer, and capable of carrying 12 mines, was captured by the British and is now on exhibition in England. At the left is a close view of one of the mines found on the vessel.

STORM'S TOLL

(By American Press)

Corpus Christi, Tex., Aug. 21.—The loss of life from the tropical storm which struck Corpus Christi and ten adjacent south Texas counties Friday night was placed at thirteen including nine members of the crew of the small freighter, Pilot Boy, which foundered off the Aransas Pass jetty. Two Mexican men and one Mexican woman were killed at Katherine, a settlement of the King ranch, near Alice, Tex., and one Mexican was reported killed at San Diego. Both towns are from fifty to sixty miles inland.

The total damage in this section, of which Corpus Christi bore the heaviest part, was estimated at $2,000,000.

PRINTERS ARBITRATE

(By American Press)

Baltimore, Md., Aug. 21.—At the closing session of the sixty-second annual convention of the International Typographical Union an arbitration agreement with the American Publisher's Association was ratified. The agreement is to cover a period of five years beginning on May 1, 1917. Under its terms every difference of the members of the union with their employers will be settled by arbitration along fixed lines.

JEALOUS LOVER'S ACT

(By American Press)

Richmond, W. Va., Aug. 21.—Walter Bunch of this city, shot Anna Doyle, three times and, believing her to be dead, turned the gun on himself and ended his life. The tragedy, which is said to have been due to Bunch's jealousy of the attention she received from other men, took place in the apartments of the woman. The woman was taken to a hospital, where she died three hours later.

FEDERAL MEDIATORS STOP MANY STRIKES

Forty-seven Have Been Averted Since Board Was Organized In 1913.

Washington. — The United States board of mediation and conciliation, which was called upon by the government to prevent a national strike, was created on July 13, 1913, by act of congress. Its members were appointed by President Wilson three days later, and they acted in the railroad strike situation of 1913 and a strike was averted.

According to the act under which it was created the purposes of the board are: "To settle by mediation, conciliation and arbitration all controversies concerning wages, hours of labor or conditions of employment that may arise between any common carriers engaged in the transportation of passengers or property (in interstate commerce) and their employees."

The services of the board may be sought by either or both sides. Both sides must consent before it may act. It has no peremptory powers. In the forty-seven cases in which the board has been successful, thirty-nine were settled by mediation and eight by arbitration.

Its members are William L. Chambers, chairman; Martin A. Knapp and G. W. W. Hanger.

MODISTE WITH MONEY IN BANK
NEARLY BURIED AS A PAUPER

Body Sent to Morgue Saved by Public Administrator.

Kansas City, Mo.—Miss E. A. Heltcamp, a hair dresser, found Miss Anna

Leavy, sixty-five years old, dead in her home here. The body was taken to the morgue and would have been buried in the potter's field had not Miss Heltcamp notified Public Administrator Newell, who made a search of her home and found that she had fourteen shares in the Shapleigh Hardware company, par value $100 each; a bank book showing $492 in the Mechanics-American National bank; $14 in cash and a note for $1,500 executed in her favor in 1904 and signed, according to Miss Heltcamp, by a name which she thinks is that of a former official of the Shapleigh Hardware company, now in New York city.

Miss Leavy was a modiste, and was said to have made many of the gowns worn by queens of the Veiled Prophet.

HOME MERCHANT
A hustling newspaper in a nearby town says:

Who is the home merchant?
He is the chap who gives you credit when you are financially broke, and carries your account until you are able to pay.
He is the chap who gives you back your money or makes exchanges when you are not satisfied with what you have bought.
He is the chap who stands behind his guaranty, and makes restoration of all losses that you may sustain on the goods you buy.
He is the chap who meets you at the door with a handshake, lets you out with a message to the "kids," and a real come again good-bye.
He is the chap who meets and greets you on the street every day in the year, and takes a neighborly interest in your family and your affairs.
He is the chap whose clerks and bookkeepers and other employes live here and spend their money with you and other local people.
He is the chap who pays heavy taxes to help support schools, and the fire department and police department, and lighting and water service.
He is the chap who helps support

churches, charity organizations, and lodges and boosts every day in the year.

He is the chap who visits you when you are sick, sends flowers to your family when you die, and follows your body out among the trees and tombs, as far as human feet may travel with the dead.

He is the home merchant—your neighbor—your friend—your helper in times of need.

Don't you think that you ought to trade with him, and be his friend and his helper in the time of his need?

Don't you know that every dollar that you send out of town for merchandise, is sent to strangers—to men who never spend a dollar here, to men who would not trust you for a box of matches.

Out-of-town people judge our city by the appearance of our stores and the degree of enterprise shown by our merchants. And our home merchants can not succeed unless home folks give them loyal support.

BUSINESS SESSIONS CONVENED

Nearly 20,000 Delegates Attend the American Federation of Catholic Societies in New York.

By Associated Press Dispatch.
New York, August 21. — Business sessions of the American Federation of Catholic Societies and allied organizations began here today with nearly 20,000 delegates attending.

"Catholic Week," with a series of meetings and ceremonies which are to continue through Friday, was inaugurated yesterday with a pontifical high mass in St. Patrick's Cathedral, attended by three cardinals and the apostolic delegates.

This was followed by a mass meeting of the Federation which brought out 15,000 delegates in the evening. The opening session of the Federation today was devoted in part to hearing the reports of the National President, John Whalen, and of the National Secretary, Anthony Matre. At the afternoon session the delegates will hear a report of the Commission on Public Morals. Social service problems will be considered at a mass meeting this evening.

The minimum wage and living wages for working women will be among the subjects discussed. Sessions of the Catholic Young Men's National Union and the Catholic Women's Union and the State League of Catholic Societies were held this morning and afternoon, and there will be a mass meeting of Catholic women tonight.

OLDEST LIVING THING.

Ancient Forest Giant That Towers in Sequoia National Park.

Towering a giant among giants, the oldest living thing that connects the present with the dim past, majestic in its mien, its dignity and its world old experience, the General Sherman tree is the patriarch of the Sequoia National park of California.

This wonderful tree was already 2,000 years old when Christ was born. In the age when the known world was rocking in the throes of the Trojan wars and the time that history tells us marked the exodus of the Hebrews from Egypt this greatest of Sequoia gigantea was a flourishing sapling of some twenty or thirty feet in height and truly under the especial care of the Creator, who held it safe from the lightning of his wrath as he did from the attacks of earthly enemies.

The General Sherman was discovered in 1879 by James Wolverton, a hunter, and named by him in honor of General William T. Sherman. It towers 279.9 feet into the sky, its base circumference is 102.8 feet, its greatest diameter 36.6 feet, and it has developed a diameter of 17.7 feet at a point 104 feet above the ground.—National Geographic Magazine.

The Arab has some curious ways. He takes off his shoes when he enters a house, but keeps on his hat. He reads and writes from right to left. He eats scarcely anything for breakfast or dinner, but in the evening he sits down to a hot meal swimming in oil. His sons eat with him, but the ladies of the household wait till the males have finished. The Arab rides a donkey when traveling, his wife walking behind, and he laughs at the idea of giving up his seat for a woman. The Arab has one strong virtue, and that is, he is rarely seen drunk. He is not very affectionate, is very ignorant and has so little initiative that he rarely takes on anything worth doing or attempts to carry out any enterprise.

Hugo and Dumas.

During Victor Hugo's exile Dumas went to Guernsey, where Hugo received him kindly and took him to breakfast on a veranda overlooking the ocean. It did not take Dumas long to discover that Hugo was already posing as the proscribed prophet, and the poet said, with an Olympian wave of his hand, "You see me, my dear Dumas, on my rock of exile like the proscribed one of antiquity."

"Never mind," said Dumas, with his mouth full. "The butter is far better here than in Paris. There is no disputing that."

GARBER IS BUSY IN THE CAMPAIGN

"Glue Democratic" Leader to Fight Cox.

By Associated Press Dispatch.
Columbus, O., August 21 — Word went out today that a convention of "true Democrats," an organization opposed to the candidacy for Governor of ex-Governor James M. Cox, is to be called by Harvey C. Garber to be held in Columbus early next week.

It is understood the proposed meeting will endorse Governor Willis, Republican, for re-election, although endorsing all other Democratic candidates except Cox.

STORY OF TWO BOYS.

Their Methods Were Different, and So Were the Results.

Two boys left home with just money enough to take them through college. They both did well at college, took their diplomas in due time and got from members of the faculty letters to a large shipbuilding firm with which they desired employment. When the first boy was given an audience with the head of the firm he presented his letters.

"What can you do?" asked the president.

"I should like some sort of a clerkship."

"Well, sir, I will take your name and address, and if we have anything of the kind I will write to you."

The other boy then presented himself and his papers.

"What can you do?" the president asked him.

"Anything that a green hand can do, sir," was the reply.

The president touched a bell that called a foreman, and the college graduate went to sorting scrap iron. A week passed, and the president, meeting the superintendent, asked, "How is the new man getting on?"

"Oh," said the superintendent, "he did his work so well that I put him over the gang."

In two years that young man was the head of a department and on the way to a salary larger probably than his friend will ever earn.—Youth's Companion.

FEEDING AN ARMY

Service of Food One of Stupendous Tasks of War.

ALL CAREFULLY PREPARED.

Collection, Dispatch, Distribution and Preparation of Food is a Colossal Work Which Ordinary Civilian Finds It Difficult to Comprehend.

London.—The mighty work of serving ammunition to the hungry, fast firing guns of the battling armies in Europe is a subject that thrills the vast newspaper reading population of America, but the service of food to the warring troops is one of the stupendous tasks imposed by the war, but, lacking the spectacular element, this subject does not attract as much attention as the service of shell, shrapnel, rifle and machine gun cartridges, trench mortar bombs and hand grenades.

No one knows how many soldiers are in the field in Europe today, but for the sake of illustration, setting that number down as 10,000,000, the daily consumption of food by that number of troops is roughly 12,000 tons. The collection, dispatch, distribution and preparation of this food is a colossal work which the ordinary civilian finds it difficult to comprehend.

Rations are prepared in the field kitchens and served to men, as at the call to mess they file past the kitchen. In all the armies are field ovens for baking bread and portable kitchens for preparing the ration in the form of stews, soups or hash, or in whatever other way appears best for the health, comfort and spirits of the men.

In all the armies is an emergency ration issued to men when they are to be sent on duty which may keep them away from the field kitchen. The men carry this ration in their haversack. A great deal of thought has been expended on these rations, so that a soldier will have the greatest nourishment in food in the least weight and bulk.

A few stories have come over the wires or through the air about hungry soldiers in the European armies, but men conversant with military matters know that these armies, fighting as they are, are well fed and are getting as much, perhaps more, food than called for in the field ration of peace times.

Hen Raises Quails.

Bedford, Ind.—A son of Eliza Smith when working in a wheat field found a quail's nest containing thirteen eggs. He took the eggs to his home and put them under a setting hen. The hen hatched them out. Since then Biddy has raised them with her other chicks and seems as proud of them as though they were her own kin. She looks after them the same as the others, feeding them tiny grasshoppers, etc. The little quails run to her when she calls them and hover under her at night the same as her own chicks.

Grandeur has a heavy tax to pay.—Alexander Smith.

HELD A ROAD WORKING "BEE."

Citizens of Cottonwood Falls and Bazaar, Kan., Put Five Miles in Shape. Cottonwood Falls, Kan.—With motor cars loaded with picks, shovels, rakes and other road working implements a score of men from this city and Bazaar started from their respective towns recently and thoroughly worked the five mile stretch of road between. In the party of good road boosters were business men, county officials, merchants and farmers.

Each party starting from its own town worked until they had joined near the center of the five mile stretch. In addition to their hand tools the Bazaar men had horses and road scrapers to aid in the work.

HIS CARGO BECAME ALIVE.

But Part of It Wasn't Displeased With What Was Happening.

Kansas City.—Harry Deutsch, a baggageman, got a call that almost set him up in the poultry business.

A commission house on the north side had thirty cases of bad eggs it wanted dumped into the river. Deutsch backed his wagon to the river and began heaving the eggs into the water. Cries of protest came from one of the cases. Deutsch found two live little chickens and in another case two ducklings. The ducklings tumbled and tossed until they got into the water and floated away. He has the chickens.

Why Children Like Candy.

Children like candy because of its properties of sugar, a food quickly absorbed by the human system. The purpose of all food is to supply the energy that is wasted by physical exertion. Some foods more than others contain the elements necessary to furnish this supply and vary in the time required to feel their benefits. Sugar is actually turned into real energy within a few minutes after it is eaten, and candy gives a quick supply of the energy called for by the activities of youth. Thus the constant need of energizing force by children leads them instinctively to crave candy.—Exchange

Kedleston Hall.

Kedleston Hall is considered to be Robert Adams' masterpiece. Its scale of magnificence may be gauged from the fact that one entire wing is taken up by the kitchen and its offices. The design of the garden front was copied from the arch of Constantine, and the drive through the park to the hall, a mile in length, is through some of the noblest forest scenery in England. It is said that when in 1761 the first Lord Scarsdale resolved on building Kedleston Hall as it now stands he removed the entire village to another spot to make room for his new mansion.—London Globe.

A writer in a Tokyo journal reports the struggles of Japanese writers to translate English idioms into their own tongue. We cite several of these howlers. "We put our heads together" (We collided). "He could not find it for the life of him" (He could not discover it till his death). "He is a great calamity to his country" (He is a great calamity to his country). "He hung his head for shame" (He committed suicide by strangulation). "He takes things easily" (He is a deft thief). "She sat over a cup of tea" (She sat upon a teacup). "I shudder at the bare idea" (I shudder to think that the man is naked). "The bare idea" is evidently translated "The idea of bareness." "Spare me five minutes" (Spare my life—only for five minutes).

Horses In the Time of Homer.

The horses used in Homer's time were war horses. The warriors were drawn in chariots. The art of riding was known, but it is alluded to as something unusual. Ulysses at a time of his shipwreck "bestrode a plank, like a horseman on a big steed." There are reasons for believing that the practice of riding was much later than that of driving, and the myth of the centaur, where, according to Shakespeare, "man is incorporated and demasped with the beast," probably originated at an early period when the appearance of a man on horseback was a novel sight.
